The committee visited Scranton last week to arrange for the hotel accommodations. The convention will be held October 7, 8 and 9.

VACCINATION OF DOGS URGED TO STOP RABIES

The best way to prevent rabies among dogs is to have the animals vaccinated, Dr. Richard Newsham, Gettysburg veterinarian, told members of the board of health at their April meeting Wednesday night in the office of the president, Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Baltimore street.

There has not been a reported case of rabies in this section in some time, Dr. Newsham said. The brain of one animal was sent to a Pittsburgh laboratory for examination, but the result was negative, he said. He told, however, of the spread of rabies throughout sections of eastern Pennsylvania, and said it might reach Adams county.

Rabies is believed caused by a virus, Dr. Newsham said. In New York state the situation became serious four years ago, he added, and rabies has given trouble in Virginia. He said it was probable that it had spread to Pennsylvania from these two states.

Blames Rabid Foxes

Rabid foxes, he said, were the principal cause of the spread of the disease. Skunks, rabbits, groundhogs, chipmunks and domestic animals can be infected from the bite of a rabid fox, and it can be fatal to humans.

Dr. Newsham said there are two types of rabies in dogs, the ferocious and the "dumb" type. "The saliva of the rabid animal is highly infectious," he said. "In a deep wound, the infection enters the nerves, travels to the spinal column, and eventually hits the main nerve centers in the brain, ending in complete paralysis and death."

"Rabies can be readily transmitted to human beings if they are bitten by a rabid animal," Dr. Newsham said. "The percentage of infection depends in large measure on the nature of the bite, its depth and other factors. There is less danger if the wound is properly cauterized. Physicians should determine whether the Pasteur treatment should be given."

Dr. Newsham said the "incubation" period is variable, depending on where the bite is located and how long it takes the virus to reach the nerve center. A dog will ordinarily die within ten days, he said. They should not be destroyed, or if they are, the head should be preserved for examination. Dogs which exhibit unusual symptoms and are not their usual selves should be tied up and watched, he said.

"Insofar as control of rabies is concerned, the best preventative is to vaccinate all the dogs in the county, particularly farm dogs, who often roam in the woods and stand a greater chance of being bitten by a rabid fox," Dr. Newsham said.

Answering questions on the possibility of hunters or fishermen being bitten, Dr. Newsham said that the normal fox shuns humans, and that even a rabid fox probably (Continued on Page 3)

FRAT RESUMES PAINTING JOB

Members of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity of Gettysburg college this afternoon resumed painting of the parsonage at St. Paul's AME Zion church, South Washington and Breckenridge streets.

The work was started at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A "crew" of more than a dozen fraternity members began the painting job as a part of a fraternity community project. Shortly before 4 o'clock high winds which whipped up dust and dirt forced postponement of the work until today.

Fraternity members are furnishing all the labor on a volunteer basis, and are paying for half of the cost of the paint. The church pays the other half, Rev. J. O. Fountain, pastor, said.

Only the white, wooden section of the parsonage and the window trim is being painted, Rev. Fountain said. The main part of the parsonage is brick. This also is badly in need of painting. The red paint applied several years ago is badly flaked, and the new white paint on the remainder of the house makes the red look worse by contrast.

Ridgway Flies To Munsan For Conference; Break In Prisoner Exchange Deadlock Is Rumored

Seoul, Korea, April 3 (AP)—American Sabre pilots destroyed or damaged eight Communist jets today running their box score to 40 for the first three days of April.

Today's toll was taken in three battles over northwest Korea, including history's longest jet fight. It lasted 45 minutes. Eighteen F-86 Sabre jets tangled with 60 Russian type jets in that battle, fought as the sun was setting.

The April mark is already more than a third of the total for the full month of March.

April Allied losses have not been announced. They are reported weekly.

New Jet Ace

A new jet ace, America's ninth, came out of today's actions. He is Capt. Robert H. Moore of Houston, Tex. He shot down his fifth MIG-15 on his 96th flight over Korea. He is scheduled to go home after four more combat missions.

Moore is the second Sabre pilot to become an ace this week. Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., joined the limited ranks of jet aces on Tuesday.

The seldom-seen "type 15" Communist jet showed up in MIG Alley Thursday. The U.S. Fifth Air Force said one was probably destroyed and another damaged.

The high-winged "type 15s" were flying with the faster, low wing MIG-15s. American air officers said the "type 15s" apparently were designed as fighter-bombers rather than interceptors.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said, "And both are certainly manifest here."

Ground action Wednesday was highlighted by a heavy Communist artillery barrage, mostly on the western front. An Eighth Army briefing officer said the Reds fired 4,693 rounds.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said, "And both are certainly manifest here."

Postponement of the secret prisoner exchange talks stirred immediate speculation that a new move to end the deadlock may be in the offing. Similar recesses in the past often have preceded important developments.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, U.N. spokesman, said the postponement "was made for constructive purposes."

Since daily briefings on the prisoner talks were eliminated March 25, U.N. spokesmen have announced only that the staff officers were exploring a Communist proposal.

The Reds suggested the prisoner exchange problem be worked out on the basis of prisoner rosters traded last December 18. These rosters listed 11,559 Allied prisoners and approximately 132,000 Communist prisoners.

RED CROSS DRIVE IS NEARING GOAL; LACK $1,194.88

The Adams county Red Cross fund drive was in "the home stretch" today and officials are hopeful that the $13,000 campaign can be completed this week.

With only $1,194.88 to be collected, the county Red Cross was hoping that final reports from several communities, plus a report from Littlestown, would complete the drive.

Littlestown, which last year gave approximately $1,200 to the Red Cross campaign has not made any report yet, with canvassers three planning to finish their solicitation and turn in the entire report at one time. Officials at Littlestown reported today that they were awaiting responses from only a few persons before they could make the final report, a report which may give that borough the honor of putting the county's campaign over the top.

Upper End Over The Top

Biglerville has reported in $931.80 so far, with additional contributions still sought by some of the canvassers there.

Bendersville has made additional contributions bringing its total to $841.25.

Red Cross officials noted that Biglerville, Bendersville and Arendtsville, which became separate districts this year, have exceeded the $2,200 set as the quota for those Upper Adams districts.

Gettysburg is one of the communities where solicitors are still working. The town is still about $300 below the residential quota set for it in the drive.

Gettysburg firemen were assured today of hotel accommodations in Scranton next October for the annual convention of the state firemen's association.

George D. March, chairman of the convention arrangements committee for the local department, was notified by Floyd Carwardine, convention secretary, that rooms for 60 men will be available at the Hotel Plaza in Scranton.

The committee visited Scranton last week to arrange for the hotel accommodations. The convention will be held October 7, 8 and 9.

VACCINATION OF DOGS URGED TO STOP RABIES

The best way to prevent rabies among dogs is to have the animals vaccinated, Dr. Richard Newsham, Gettysburg veterinarian, told members of the board of health at their April meeting Wednesday night in the office of the president, Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Baltimore street.

There has not been a reported case of rabies in this section in some time, Dr. Newsham said. The brain of one animal was sent to a Pittsburgh laboratory for examination, but the result was negative, he said. He told, however, of the spread of rabies throughout sections of eastern Pennsylvania, and said it might reach Adams county.

Rabies is believed caused by a virus, Dr. Newsham said. In New York state the situation became serious four years ago, he added, and rabies has given trouble in Virginia. He said it was probable that it had spread to Pennsylvania from these two states.

Blames Rabid Foxes
Rabid foxes, he said, were the principal cause of the spread of the disease. Skunks, rabbits, groundhogs, chipmunks and domestic animals can be infected from the bite of a rabid fox, and it can be fatal to humans.

Dr. Newsham said there are two types of rabies in dogs, the ferocious and the "dumb" type. "The saliva of the rabid animal is highly infectious," he said. "In a deep wound, the infection enters the nerves, travels to the spinal column, and eventually hits the main nerve centers in the brain, ending in complete paralysis and death."

"Rabies can be readily transmitted to human beings if they are bitten by a rabid animal," Dr. Newsham said. "The percentage of infection depends in large measure on the nature of the bite, its depth and other factors. There is less danger if the wound is properly cauterized. Physicians should determine whether the Pasteur treatment should be given."

Dr. Newsham said the "incubation" period is variable, depending on where the bite is located and how long it takes the virus to reach the nerve center. A dog will ordinarily die within ten days, he said. They should not be destroyed, or if they are, the head should be preserved for examination. Dogs which exhibit unusual symptoms and are not their usual selves should be tied up and watched, he said.

"Insofar as control of rabies is concerned, the best preventative is to vaccinate all the dogs in the county, particularly farm dogs, who often roam in the woods and stand a greater chance of being bitten by a rabid fox," Dr. Newsham said.

Answering questions on the possibility of hunters or fishermen being bitten, Dr. Newsham said that the normal fox shuns humans, and that even a rabid fox probably

FRAT RESUMES PAINTING JOB

Members of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity of Gettysburg college this afternoon resumed painting of the parsonage at St. Paul's AME Zion church, South Washington and Breckenridge streets.

The work was started at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A "crew" of more than a dozen fraternity members began the painting job as a part of a fraternity community project. Shortly before 4 o'clock high winds which whipped up dust and dirt, forced postponement of the work until today.

Fraternity members are furnishing all the labor on a volunteer basis, and are paying for half of the cost of the paint. The church pays the other half, Rev. J. O. Fountain, pastor, said.

Only the white, wooden section of the parsonage and the window trim is being painted, Rev. Fountain said. The main part of the parsonage is brick. This also is badly in need of painting. The red paint applied several years ago is badly flaked, and the new white paint on the remainder of the house makes the red look worse by contrast.

Ridgway Flies To Munsan For Conference; Break In Prisoner Exchange Deadlock Is Rumored

Seoul, Korea, April 3 (P)—American Sabre pilots destroyed or damaged eight Communist jets today running their box score to 40 for the first three days of April.

Today's toll was taken in three battles over northwest Korea, including history's longest jet fight. It lasted 45 minutes. Eighteen P-86 Sabre jets tangled with 60 Russian type jets in that battle, fought as the sun was setting.

The April mark is already more than a third of the total for the full month of March.

April Allied losses have not been announced. They are reported weekly.

New Jet Ace

A new jet ace, America's ninth, came out of today's actions. He is Capt. Robert H. Moore of Houston, Tex. He shot down his fifth MIG-15 on his 96th flight over Korea. He is scheduled to go home after four more combat missions.

Moore is the second Sabre pilot to become an ace this week. Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., joined the limited ranks of jet aces on Tuesday.

The seldom-seen "type 15" Communist jet showed up in MIG Alley Thursday. The U.S. Fifth Air Force said one was probably destroyed and another damaged.

The high-winged "type 15s" were flying with the faster, low wing MIG 15s. American air officers said the "type 15s" apparently were designed as fighter-bombers rather than interceptors.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said, "And both are certainly manifest here."

Ground action Wednesday was highlighted by a heavy Communist artillery barrage, mostly on the western front. An Eighth Army briefing officer said the Reds fired 4,693 rounds.

RED CROSS DRIVE IS NEARING GOAL; LACK $1,194.88

The Adams county Red Cross fund drive was in "the home stretch" today and officials are hopeful that the $13,000 campaign can be completed this week.

With only $1,194.88 to be collected, the county Red Cross was hoping that final reports from several communities, plus a report from Littlestown, would complete the drive.

Littlestown, which last year gave approximately $1,200 to the Red Cross campaign has not made any report yet, with canvassers three planning to finish their solicitation and turn in the entire report at one time. Officials at Littlestown reported today that they were awaiting responses from only a few persons before they could make the final report, a report which may give that borough the honor of putting the county's campaign over the top.

Upper End Over The Top

Biglerville has reported in $931.80 so far, with additional contributions still sought by some of the canvassers there.

Bendersville has made additional contributions bringing its total to $841.25.

Red Cross officials noted that Biglerville, Bendersville and Arendtsville, which became separate districts this year, have exceeded the $2,200 set as the quota for those Upper Adams districts.

Gettysburg is one of the communities where solicitors are still working. The town is still about $300 below the residential quota set for it in the drive.

Eisenhower Feature In Sunday Paper

The Eisenhower farm, formerly the Allen Redding farm, on the Water Works road within sight of the Gettysburg battlefield, is the subject of an illustrated article to appear Sunday in the magazine section of the Baltimore Sun.

Entitled "When the Tumult and the Shouting Dies, then General Ike Aims to Settle Down on His New 189-Acre Farm Outside Gettysburg," it was written by James H. Brady.

Photographs accompanying the article show the century-old brick farmhouse, the large barn and silo, the "goose-neck" wall telephone in the kitchen, and a registration certificate for the farm's herd of Guernsey cattle issued by the American Guernsey Cattle club.

Ten Are Baptized By Rev. Rohrbach

Crigger, Abbottstown R. D.; Wayne Lester Erb, son of George E. and Alice M. Erb, Hanover; David Allen Crowl, son of Elmer C. and Esther A. Crowl; Donald Leroy Trimmer, son of Harry R. and Margaret B. The Adams county commissioners are seeking three married couples to complete the staff at the county jail.

The husband-wife teams will receive a minimum of $215 a month as an apartment at the county jail, and their food, light, heat, and laundry.

The wages were described as the highest in the county home's history. The skilled labor was paid 75 cents an hour, unskilled labor 50 cents per hour and the steward's salary was $100 per year.

Couples interested in the positions are asked to apply to the commissioners' office in the court house. The men will serve in various capacities and the wives will serve as attendants in the women's division of the home.

Wednesday the commissioners approved a request of Littlestown for $51.03 in county aid.

Today the commissioners, meeting in the county institution, district court, met at the county home to discuss with architect Alfred Hamme the plans of the planned conversion of the former insane asylum section of the home—unused as such for years—into a modern infirmary. Planning of the women's building began today.

W'GRATH SAYS HE'S NOT OUT

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Attorney General McGrath was quoted today as heatedly denying that he had been fired or was about to be fired by President Truman.

"You can bet your life I'm still attorney general," the Times Herald said he told a reporter at last night's dinner for Queen Juliana of the Netherlands.

There has been speculation for days that either McGrath or administration cleanup chief Newbold Morris would have to quit or be fired in their feud over Morris' questionnaire for top government officials.

Asks Personal Questions

The questionnaire asks such personal questions about private income as: How many fur coats have you in your family?

The Times Herald said its reporters overheard a few of the things said in the heated discussion between McGrath, Truman and residential press secretary Joseph Short at National airport while waiting Queen Juliana's arrival.

Without attempting to interpret, the Times Herald gave these disconnected quotes of the brief talk: Truman: "I'm not concerned with that part of it."

Short: "We want to keep the president out of this x x x the president didn't x x x the president is."

Sees Ike Victory On First Ballot

Paris, April 3 (AP)—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., chairman of the Eisenhower-for-President movement, arrived today by plane from New York, and stated "it is possible, in my judgment, that Eisenhower can be nominated on the first ballot" at the Republican nominating convention in Chicago in July.

Lodge said the next big primary test will be in New Jersey April 15, and "we are sure of a victory there which will prove what I've said all along, that Eisenhower is the man the American people want for their next president."

Lodge is to visit Gen. Eisenhower at SHAPE headquarters, 12 miles west of Paris, tomorrow morning and stay for lunch.

SENATE PASSES TIDELAND BILL

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The Senate yesterday approved the controversial Tidelands bill giving states, instead of the federal government, clear title to oil-rich lands in their coastal areas.

The House has passed a somewhat similar bill, but the measure is still far from becoming law. First, differences between the Senate and House bills must be ironed out. Lawmakers do not believe this will be difficult.

The finally approved bill then goes to President Truman, who vetoed a similar measure in 1946 and may veto the new one.

Following the 50 to 35 Senate rollcall vote yesterday, senators expressed conflicting opinions whether the legislation could be passed by the required two-thirds majority over the anticipated veto.

Ownership to States

The Senate measure gives the states outright ownership to the lands beneath the marginal seas for a distance of three miles out from their shores, except in the cases of Texas and Florida, where the distance is 10½ miles because of conditions under which they were admitted as states.

The House bill not only gives the states title to the marginal belt, but provides also that the states should receive 37½ per cent of all revenues from oil and gas developments in the continental shelf out beyond the state seaward boundaries.

The Supreme court has ruled that the federal government has paramount rights to submerged coastal areas. However, if Congress passes a law saying the states own such areas, the court ruling would not apply.

Legislators Beat "Spilled Beer" Bill

Boston, April 3 (AP)—The Massachusetts Senate cried over spilled beer for an hour yesterday, but didn't do anything about it.

Up for action was a bill to forbid drinking of beer or other alcoholic beverages in the seating areas at sporting events.

The debate waxed long and furious, but the bill was rejected by a roll call vote of 19 to 9.

Sen. John F. Collins (D-Boston) said spectators at ball games were fed up with having beer spilled on them while they were watching games.

Sen. Charles I. Taylor (D-Boston) argued the bill would be a hardship on football fans.

"What are they going to do at football games to keep warm?" Taylor asked.

Docks Destroyed By Freak Iceberg

Traverse City, Mich., April 3 (AP)—A freakish southwest wind yesterday launched by land an "iceberg" which caused havoc for 20 minutes across the east arm of Grand Traverse Bay.

The "iceberg" was a phenomenon of the spring breakup. It clipped down trees like a giant mower, ground docks to pieces and destroyed boats and other objects in its path. A sudden shift of the wind saved the home of Edward Larkin. When the mass of ice stopped, piles of ice were window high.

Afterwards, the ice moved out into the bay and the danger appeared over.

SENATE PASSES TIDELAND BILL

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The Senate yesterday approved the controversial Tidelands bill giving states, instead of the federal government, clear title to oil-rich lands in their coastal areas.

The House has passed a somewhat similar bill, but the measure is still far from becoming law. First, differences between the Senate and House bills must be ironed out. Lawmakers do not believe this will be difficult.

The finally approved bill then goes to President Truman, who vetoed a similar measure in 1946 and may veto the new one.

Following the 50 to 35 Senate rollcall vote yesterday, senators expressed conflicting opinions whether the legislation could be passed by the required two-thirds majority over the anticipated veto.

Ownership to States

The Senate measure gives the states outright ownership to the lands beneath the marginal seas for a distance of three miles out from their shores, except in the cases of Texas and Florida, where the distance is 10½ miles because of conditions under which they were admitted as states.

The House bill not only gives the states title to the marginal belt, but provides also that the states should receive 37½ per cent of all revenues from oil and gas developments in the continental shelf out beyond the state seaward boundaries.

The Supreme court has ruled that the federal government has paramount rights to submerged coastal areas. However, if Congress passes a law saying the states own such areas, the court ruling would not apply.

Legislators Beat "Spilled Beer" Bill

Boston, April 3 (AP)—The Massachusetts Senate cried over spilled beer for an hour yesterday, but didn't do anything about it.

Up for action was a bill to forbid drinking of beer or other alcoholic beverages in the seating areas at sporting events.

The debate waxed long and furious, but the bill was rejected by a roll call vote of 19 to 9.

Sen. John P. Collins (D-Boston) said spectators at ball games were fed up with having beer spilled on them while they were watching games.

Sen. Charles I. Taylor (D-Boston) argued the bill would be a hardship on football fans.

"What are they going to do at football games to keep warm?" Taylor asked.

DRAFT, MISHAP MAY DETERMINE LOOP WINNERS

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The 1952 World Series opponents may have been determined on April 2—two weeks before the official opening of the season.

Three teams, the New York Giants, Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees, received severe jolts in their pennant ambitions yesterday while the hopes of a fourth—the Philadelphia Phillies, were boosted.

Here's what happened:

1. Monte Irvin, left fielder of the champion Giants and National League runs batted in king of 1951, broke his right ankle in an exhibition game against Cleveland at Denver, Colo. Irvin will miss at least half of the campaign and possibly the entire season.

2. Ted Williams, star slugger and left fielder of the Red Sox, passed his physical examination at Jacksonville, Fla., and will report for active duty with the marine air corps on May 2.

3. Jerry Coleman, infielder of the Yanks, also passed his physical examination at Jacksonville, Fla., and will return to duty with the marine air corps also on May 2.

4. Curt Simmons, crack left-handed pitcher of the Phillies, will be discharged as a sergeant of the 28th Infantry Division. He will return to the United States from Germany within ten days.

The recall of Williams and Coleman to the colors was expected but the loss of Irvin came as a shock and cast gloom over the Giant camp.

Irvin was injured in the second inning sliding into third base. He suffered a compound fracture of his right ankle.

The broken bones were set at a local hospital and his leg was placed in a cast.

4th Serious Injury

The injury was the fourth serious one of the spring. Previously, infielder Billy Martin of the Yanks and third baseman Vern Benson of the St. Louis Cardinals broke their legs. Bob Slaybaugh, a rookie Card pitcher, faces the loss of an eye. Slaybaugh was struck in the face by a batted ball in batting practice.

Williams, highest salaried player in the game, and Coleman will also miss the 1952 season. They are in for 7 months. For Williams, this probably means the end of his brilliant career. He will be 35 when this second tour of duty is completed.

Gil McDougald probably will take over second base for the Yanks instead of switching between second and third. Rookie Andy Carey apparently will man third.

The return of Simmons greatly enhances the stock of the Phillies. Simmons is in shape and should be ready to pitch shortly after the bell rings. In Simmons and Robin Roberts the Phils have two potential 20 game winners.

Raimo New Athletics Director At Villanova

Villanova, Pa., April 3 (AP)—Villanova college today announced appointment of Art Raimo as director of athletics to succeed William P. Connelly who resigned. Raimo will continue as head coach of Villanova's football team.

A native of Boston, Raimo played on the Wildcat Eleven in 1936, 1937 and 1938 and was a member of Villanova's only undefeated team, in '37. Following his graduation Raimo coached at St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia, until 1940 when that school gave up football. He then was named football mentor at Ridley Township (Pa.) high school where he remained until 1943 when he entered the Navy.

Raimo came to Villanova in 1946 as backfield coach and held that post until becoming head coach last June. Raimo is married and has four children.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

Los Angeles, April 3 (AP)—The unofficial spokesman for the Cleveland Indians said he kept having a bad dream in which he saw spread before him the lifetime batting averages of Luke Easter, Larry Doby, Al Rosen and all the other ball sluggers who make up the Cleveland array.

He said it was so vivid sometimes that he would wake up with a start, bathed in sweat, and with the feeling that he should get hold of someone and tell him about it, just in the event that this nightmare proved prophetic. We offered to put it in print.

"It doesn't mean anything, of course," said the man, who lives and dies with the American league runners-up. "But what I keep seeing is that the way these guys hit last year wasn't any slump at all, but just their normal gait. Crazy, isn't it?"

40 Homers Maybe

"I know we are going to win the pennant, because Luke and Larry and Al and Ray Boone all are bound to hit higher than they did last year, and we've got the best pitcher there is. But I wish I wouldn't keep getting that dream. I told our manager, Al Lopez, about it, and Al says it's probably due to this hot stuff I've been eating over in Tucson."

"Nobody knows better than I do that Easter isn't any 270 hitter and Rosen isn't any 265 man. That's only what they hit last year, and we know that both really can polish that apple. Hell, they'll both go over 300 this season and I wouldn't be surprised to see them hit 40 homers apiece. But I keep getting that damn dream."

No "Take Charge" Guy

"Do you, personally, think that Boone is a 233 hitter? That kid not only is a good shortstop, but he is all right with that wagon tongue, too. He'll blast that ball this year and we might finish 15 games ahead of the Yankees. I'm silly to pay any attention to a dream like that, right? That Doby, he'll probably hit around 350 and this time next year you'll be wondering why you didn't see it coming."

We assured the Cleveland man we did not believe in dreams as an exact science, and after he had wiped the sweat away he continued:

"Another thing, they keep saying that we haven't got a take-charge guy on our club. Whoever invented that phrase, and how recent? I keep hearing and reading about this phenomenal character and I still don't know exactly what he is supposed to do. This game is getting complicated."

Denver, April 3 (AP)—There are sad days ahead for the New York Giants as they beat their way down through the southwest and toward the start of the National league campaign with their great negro star, Monte Irvin, left behind in a hospital here.

When Monte writhed and thrashed on the ground around third base with a fractured ankle yesterday, there wasn't a Giant but knew that a second straight league pennant probably had been forfeited in an exhibition game, and on an unnecessary slide, at that.

You can't lose a star like Irvin, the league's leading RBI man last year, and retain much hope of beating out a solid club such as Brooklyn. The scene was a heartbreaking one as Monte's teammates rushed from the bench to gather around him and Leo Durocher went stamping about the infield like a wild man, a picture of grief.

Admired And Respected

The Cleveland Indians appeared almost as affected as the Giants. The star from New Jersey has made himself one of the game's most admired and respected players, and the Indians have seen much of him in their spring trips with the Giants. They swarmed around his stricken figure almost as quickly as Monte's teammates did, and their third-baseman, Al Rosen, appeared to be berating himself for having faked the catch which caused Irvin to make his unnecessary slide.

Young Willie Mays even blamed himself for having hit the single which caused Big Monte, his idol, to go tearing around from first on the play. Outside of Durocher, Willie probably was the first man in the park to see that Irvin's spikes had caught in soft earth short of the bag and that he was badly hurt.

EDDIE STANKY IS CLICKING WITH CARDS

By JOE REICHLER

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 3 (AP)—The more I see of the little guy, the fonder I become of him. He's done a fine job for us. I can't praise him too highly. It's remarkable the way all the boys have taken to him and willingly work their heads off for him.

The speaker was Fred Saigh, president of the St. Louis Cardinals. The "little guy" he was talking about was Eddie Stanky, the effervescent ex-Giant who has taken over the Redbirds' reins, succeeding Marty Marion.

Stanky, who has impressed by the businesslike way he has run the club, has a real chance to be a first year wonder. The Cardinals appear to be definitely improved over the team that finished third, 15½ games behind the pennant-winning Giants. Most of the improvement stems from Eddie's inspiring leadership, his flaming spirit and his contagious hustle.

Schmidt A Sensation

The Cards aren't a set club by any means. Several problems still confront Stanky, but the little skipper, who tells you frankly he "is still trying to make the team," is optimistic about his club.

Heading the staff are right-hander Gerry Staley (19-13) and southpaw Cliff Chambers (14-12). Each has looked sharp. Right-handers Joe Presko (7-4) and Willard Schmidt (19-14) at Omaha and southpaw Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (16-14) at Houston round out the starting five.

Schmidt, who isn't even on the Card roster, has been the surprise sensation. The 24-year-old native of Hays, Kans., has yielded only three earned runs and allowed 13 hits in 22 innings.

First Base Problem

Stanky's biggest problem is first base. He is giving big Steve Bilko, the 237-pound strong boy from Rochester a good, long look.

If Bilko fails, either Red Schoendienst or Stan Musial will play first. Schoendienst had divided most of his time this spring between second base and shortstop, but it looks like Stanky will open at second and Solly Heimus at short.

Unless Musial is moved to first, the outfield will consist of the league's top hitter in left, Wally Westlake in center and Enos Slaughter in right. Peanuts Lowrey, Hal Rice and rookie Herb Gorman are the reserves. Gene Mauch, Tommy Glaviano and Eddie Kazak are the utility infielders.

Howie Landa, Lebanon Valley; Dick Dunn, P. and M.; Dick Rudolph, Muhlenberg, and Joe Gallagher, Bucknell, round out the first five. Gettysburg's second all-foe team included Gormisch, Wagner, Art Press, Western Maryland; Gus Lovett, P. and M.; Don Bosley, Wagner, and Don Strasser, Bucknell.

THURSDAY'S SCHEDULE

National League
Boston at Montreal (best-of-1 series tied, 2-2).

American League
Providence at Cincinnati (Providence leads best-of-5 series, 2-0).

shortstop Ike Boone of the Indians had cut out of the throw from the outfield, kept pointing wildly toward third as he scampered between the throws and finally permitted himself to be tagged out. Then he went running across the infield to bend over Monte.

Willie expects to be called into the army soon. The Giants have been figuring that they might somehow get along without the brilliant Alabama kid—possibly by sending Bobby Thomson back to the outfield and returning Hank Thompson to his 1950 post at third. But none of them will tell you they can make it without Irvin. No club ever suffered a tougher blow, even if Monte should return sometime during the season.

Baseball Training Camp Briefs

Dallas, Tex., April 3 (AP)—Unless Ted Williams, who has passed his marine physical examination, rejoins the Boston Red Sox fold, Don Lenhardt will be the club's regular left fielder, according to Manager Lou Boudreau.

Boudreau, however, expects Williams to rejoin the club, probably in time for today's game with the Dallas Texas league club, and play regularly until he goes into active service on May 2.

Lakeland, Fla., April 3 (AP)—Aroused at the spaghetti-like bats his Detroit Tigers have been waving, Manager Red Rolfe staged a five hour workout yesterday and planned more of the same today.

Ordinarily the next-to-last day in camp would be one of short exercise, then an afternoon off before heading north on Friday.

But Rolfe is concerned because the Tigers have lost 12 games—five by shutouts—in the exhibition season. Only three of his team are hitting over .300. They are Pat Mullin, with a .429 average as a pinchhitter, George Kell with .357 and Johnny Groth with .308.

Beaumont, Texas, April 3 (AP)

George Strickland is practically a sure bet to open the season at shortstop for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Strickland's teammates have been patting him on the back for the way he's been playing the past few days. In yesterday's 5-2 win over the St. Louis Browns Strickland also did well at the plate, scoring one run, and driving in another as he got a single and a triple in four times at bat.

Columbia, S. C., April 3 (AP)

Thomas, Philadelphia Athletics rookie, is going all out against seasoned Allie Clark in a battle for the right field post.

Thomas showed the way yesterday by pounding out a pair of homers and driving in four runs as the A's nosed out their Savannah farm hands, 7-6. His round-tripper with Jack Littrell on base in the eighth put Philadelphia in front to stay.

Waycross, Ga., April 3 (AP)

The Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals met today in the first of an eight-game series to be played as the two teams travel north together. The Phillies will be trying to stay in the victory column after snapping a five-game losing streak yesterday. They beat the Boston Braves, 3-1, with the help of some good pitching from Howie Fox and Andy Hansen. Two scratch hits in the eighth inning decided the game. It made the Phil spring record nine won in 22 played.

Mobile, Ala., April 3 (AP)

Roy Campanella, husky catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is socking Grapefruit league pitching at a wicked clip. Campanella, the National league's most valuable player in 1951, has hit safely in his last 12 games. He has pounded out 27 hits including 13 doubles.

Houtteman's Young Daughter Is Killed

Cleveland, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—Pitcher Art Houtteman's seven-month-old daughter, Cheryl, was killed and his wife and mother injured this morning in an auto accident near here as the Detroit Tiger pitchers' family was returning home from Florida.

The ball player, who was critically injured in an auto accident at the Tigers Lakeland, Fla., training site two years ago, was not with his family.

He was notified at Lakeland where the team was training and left immediately accompanied by Tiger Trainer Jack Homel.

Mrs. Houtteman, wife of the pitcher, suffered facial lacerations and his mother, Mrs. Arthur Houtteman, Sr., also was injured.

Tiger sources said the Houtteman car apparently hit a soft shoulder on the road.

Mummert, East Berlin, Gains Third Little All-State Team

Wayne Mummert, who led the East Berlin high school basketball team to the Adams County league championship as well as the District 3 Class C PIAA title, was selected to the third Little All-Pennsylvania scholastic basketball team in selections released today by the Associated Press after a state-wide poll of sportswriters and sportscasters.

The first team is composed entirely of seniors and includes the following: Jake Handzelek, Shickshinny; Ronnie Mayer, Avalon; Pete Barto, Kutztown; Jim Watts, Jenkintown, and Rocco Julian, Pittsburgh St. James.

Mayer was a member of the undefeated Avalon team which won the Class B state title.

On Title-Winners

Watts of Jenkintown and Julian of Pittsburgh St. James also played on title-winning quintets. Jenkintown took the PIAA Class C state crown while St. James, unbeaten in 65 games, snared its third straight Class B Catholic championship.

Handzelek of Shickshinny scored a record of 1,068 points for the season. Barto was captain of Kutztown's eastern Class B titlists.

Second team choices included: Tobin, Avalon; Ortruyer, Selinsgrove; Novaleski, Wazump; Wicher, Coudersport, and Coombe, Nesquehoning.

Three rounds of games will be played by the 19-team organization with the top four teams again participating in Shaughnessy playoffs at the conclusion of the regular league season.

East Berlin, Swope's Atlantic and Penn Ceramic were formally admitted as new members of the league.

Glenn Hankey, who is in charge of erecting the permanent stands on the softball field, reported that the work is progressing satisfactorily and is expected to be completed within a few days. Hankey was also named to paint the stands as soon as the building is finished.

Operation of the refreshment stand during the coming season was awarded to Johnny Shaw, league president, on a percentage basis.

The league adopted the Harwood grade A ball with outside seam as the official ball.

A need for umpires for the coming season was revealed and anyone interested is requested to get in touch with a league official.

The next meeting was scheduled for Wednesday evening, April 30, at which time the schedule and rosters will be approved and $1 membership playing fees submitted.

Restaurant sanitation, he said they were told, was particularly important in Gettysburg because of the large number of tourists who visit here every year.

Mr. Staub reported that all restaurants and eating places in Gettysburg have been inspected, and licenses issued, except one, which is closed temporarily. He reported that he had investigated a complaint that garbage was being thrown into the here and there trash cans and not garbage, was being used to fill up the well.

DRAFT, MISHAP MAY DETERMINE LOOP WINNERS

By RALPH RODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The 1952 World Series opponents may have been determined on April 2—two weeks before the official opening of the season.

Three teams, the New York Giants, Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees, received severe jolts in their pennant ambitions yesterday while the hopes of a fourth, the Philadelphia Phillies, were boosted.

Here's what happened:

1. Monte Irvin, left fielder of the champion Giants and National league runs batted in king of 1951, broke his right ankle in an exhibition game against Cleveland at Denver, Colo. Irvin will miss at least half of the campaign and possibly the entire season.

2. Ted Williams, star slugger and left fielder of the Red Sox, passed his physical examination at Jacksonville, Fla., and will report for active duty with the marine air corps on May 2.

3. Jerry Coleman, infielder of the Yanks, also passed his physical examination at Jacksonville, Fla., and will return to duty with the marine air corps also on May 2.

4. Curt Simmons, crack left-handed pitcher of the Phillies, will be discharged as a sergeant of the 28th Infantry Division. He will return to the United States from Germany within ten days.

The recall of Williams and Coleman to the colors was expected but the loss of Irvin came as a shock and cast gloom over the Giant camp.

Irvin was injured in the second inning sliding into third base. He suffered a compound fracture of his right ankle.

The broken bones were set at a local hospital and his leg was placed in a cast.

4th Serious Injury

The injury was the fourth serious one of the spring. Previously infielder Billy Martin of the Yanks and third baseman Vern Benson of the St. Louis Cardinals broke their legs. Bob Slaybaugh, a rookie Card pitcher, faces the loss of an eye. Slaybaugh was struck in the face by a batted ball in batting practice.

Williams, highest salaried player in the game, and Coleman will also miss the 1952 season. They are in for 7 months. For Williams, this probably means the end of his brilliant career. He will be 35 when this second tour of duty is completed.

Gil McDougald probably will take over second base for the Yanks instead of switching between second and third. Rookie Andy Carey apparently will man third.

The return of Simmons greatly enhances the stock of the Phillies. Simmons is in shape and should be ready to pitch shortly after the bell rings. In Simmons and Robin Roberts the Phils have two potential game winners.

Raimo New Athletics Director At Villanova

Villanova, Pa., April 3 (P)—Villanova college today announced appointment of Art Raimo as director of athletics to succeed William F. Connelly who resigned. Raimo will continue as head coach of Villanova's football team.

A native of Boston, Raimo played on the Wildcat Eleven in 1936, 1937 and 1938 and was a member of Villanova's only undefeated team, in '37. Following his graduation Raimo coached at St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia, until 1940 when that school gave up football. He then was named football mentor at Ridley Township (Pa.) high school where he remained until 1943 when he entered the Navy.

Raimo came to Villanova in 1946 as backfield coach and held that post until becoming head coach last June Raimo is married and has four children.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

Los Angeles, April 3 (P)—The unofficial spokesman for the Cleveland Indians said he kept having a bad dream in which he saw red before him the lifetime batting averages of Luke Easter, Larry Doby, Al Rosen and all the other ball sluggers who make up the Cleveland array.

He said it was so vivid sometimes that he would wake up with a start, bathed in sweat, and with the feeling that he should get hold of someone and tell him about it, just in the event that this nightmare proved prophetic. We offered to put it in print.

"It doesn't mean anything, of course," said the man, who lives and dines with the American league runners-up, "but what I keep seeing is that the way these guys hit last year wasn't any slump at all, but just their normal gait. Crazy, isn't it?"

40 Homers Maybe

"I know we are going to win the pennant, because Luke and Larry and Al and Ray Boone all are bound to hit higher than they did last year, and we've got the best pitching there is. But I wish I wouldn't keep getting that dream. I told our manager, Al Lopez, about it, and Al says it's probably due to this hot stuff I've been eating over in Tucson."

"Nobody knows better than I do that Easter isn't any 270 hitter and Rosen isn't any 265 man. That's only what they hit last year, and we know that both really can polish that apple. Hell, they'll both go over 300 this season and I wouldn't be surprised to see them hit 40 homers apiece. But I keep getting that damn dream."

No "Take Charge" Guy

"Do you, personally, think that Boone is a 233 hitter? That kid not only is a good shortstop, but he is all right with that wagon tongue, too. He'll blast that ball this year and we might finish 15 games ahead of the Yankees. I'm silly to pay any attention to a dream like that, right? That Doby, he'll probably hit around 350 and this time next year you'll be wondering why you didn't see it coming."

We assured the Cleveland man we did not believe in dreams as an exact science, and after he had wiped the sweat away he continued: "Another thing, they keep saying that we haven't got a take-charge guy on our club. Whoever invented that phrase, and how recently? I keep hearing and reading about this phenomenal character and I still don't know exactly what he is supposed to do. This game is getting complicated."

Denver, April 3 (P)—There are sad days ahead for the New York Giants as they beat their way down through the southwest and toward the start of the National league campaign with their great negro star, Monte Irvin, left behind in a hospital here.

When Monte writhed and a thrashed on the ground around third base with a fractured ankle yesterday, there wasn't a Giant but knew that a second straight league pennant probably had been forfeited in an exhibition game, and on an unnecessary slide, at that.

You can't lose a star like Irvin, the league's leading RBI man last year, and retain much hope of beating out a solid club such as Brooklyn. The scene was a heartbreaking one as Monte's teammates rushed from the bench to gather around him and Leo Durocher went stamping about the infield like a wild man, a picture of grief.

Admired And Respected

The Cleveland Indians appeared almost as affected as the Giants. The star from New Jersey has made himself one of the game's most admired and respected players, and the Indians have seen much of him in their spring trips with the Giants. They swarmed around his stricken figure almost as quickly as Monte's teammates did, and their third baseman, Al Rosen, appeared to be berating himself for having faked the catch which caused Irvin to make his unnecessary slide.

Young Willie Mays even blamed himself for having hit the single which caused Big Monte, his idol, to go tearing around from first on the play. Outside of Durocher, Willie probably was the first man in the park to see that Irvin's spikes had caught in soft earth short of the bag and that he was badly hurt.

Willie, caught in a rundown after

EDDIE STANKY IS CLICKING WITH CARDS

By JOE REICHLER

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 3 (P)—"The more I see of the little guy, the fonder I become of him. He's done a fine job for us. I can't praise him too highly. It's remarkable the way all the boys have taken to him and willingly work their heads off for him."

The speaker was Fred Salgh, president of the St. Louis Cardinals. The "Little Guy" he was talking about was Eddie Stanky, the effervescent ex-Giant who has taken over the Redbirds' reins, succeeding Marty Marion.

Stanky, who has impressed by the businesslike way he has run the club, has a real chance to be a first year wonder. The Cardinals appear to be definitely improved over the team that finished third, 15½ games behind the pennant-winning Giants. Most of the improvement stems from Eddie's inspiring leadership, his flaming spirit and his contagious hustle.

Schmidt A Sensation

The Cards aren't a set club by any means. Several problems still confront Stanky, but the little skipper, who tells you frankly he "is still trying to make the team," is optimistic about his club.

Heading the staff are righthander Gerry Staley (19-13) and southpaw Cliff Chambers (14-12). Each has looked sharp. Righthanders Joe Presko (7-4) and Willard Schmidt (19-14) at Omaha and southpaw Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizel (16-14) at Houston round out the starting five.

Schmidt, who isn't even on the Card roster, has been the surprise sensation. The 24-year-old native of Hays, Kans., has yielded only three earned runs and allowed 13 hits in 22 innings.

First Base Problem

Stanky's biggest problem is first base. He is giving big Steve Bilko, the 237-pound strong boy from Rochester a good, long look.

If Bilko fails, either Red Schoendienst or Stan Musial will play first. Schoendienst had divided most of his time this spring between second base and shortstop, but it looks like Stanky will open at second and Solly Heimus at short.

Unless Musial is moved to first, the outfield will consist of the league's top hitter in left, Wally Westlake in center and Enos Slaughter in right. Peanuts Lowrey, Hal Rice and rookie Herb Gorman are the reserves. Gene Mauch, Tommy Glaviano and Eddie Kazak are the utility infielders.

SOFTBALL LOOP PLANS TO OPEN SEASON MAY 14

The Gettysburg Softball league set Wednesday evening, May 14, as the opening date for its season at a meeting of league officials held Wednesday at the Moose home on York street.

Three rounds of games will be played by the 10-team organization with the top four teams again participating in Shaughnessy playoffs at the conclusion of the regular league season.

East Berlin, Swope's Atlantic and Penn Ceramic were formally admitted as new members of the league.

Glenn Hankey, who is in charge of erecting the permanent stands on the softball field, reported that the work is progressing satisfactorily and is expected to be completed within a few days. Hankey was also named to paint the stands as soon as the building is finished.

Operation of the refreshment stand during the coming season was awarded to Johnny Knox, league president, on a percentage basis.

The league adopted the Harwood grade A ball with outside seam as the official ball.

A need for umpires for the coming season was revealed and anyone interested is requested to get in touch with a league official.

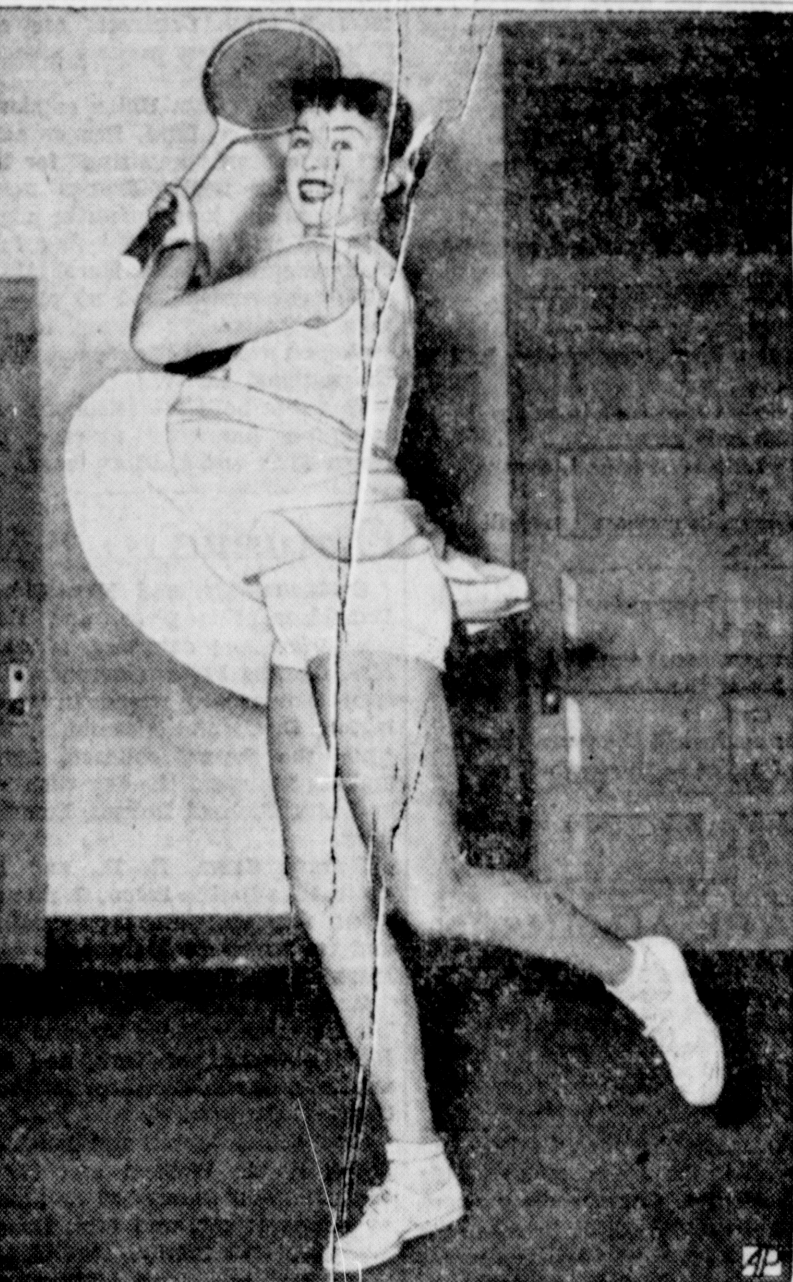

The next meeting was scheduled for Wednesday evening, April 30, at which time the schedule and rosters will be approved and $1 membership playing fees submitted.

President Knox presided at the meeting. All teams were represented with the exception of the Eagles and American Legion.

Restaurant sanitation, he said they were told, was particularly important in Gettysburg because of the large number of tourists who visit here every year.

Mr. Staub reported that all restaurants and eating places in Gettysburg have been inspected, and licenses issued, except one, which is closed temporarily. He reported that he had investigated a complaint that garbage was being thrown into a well here but found that ashes, and not garbage, was being used to fill up the well.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

IT DEPENDS UPON ME

When a person learns to bear responsibility he learns to live. And as soon as he believes that many things depend upon him, and him alone, he begins to climb!

There may be no such a person as the "indispensable" one, but when one is efficient, courageous, patient, self-reliant, and dependable, he becomes almost irreplaceable, but when gone he is missed, and often a world mourns his loss.

When a man feels in his heart that what he is engaged in depends upon himself for its full fruition and success, he treads the path of the immortals! History takes note of him, and mothers name their babies after him! How many a great leader, at a crucial moment in history, has said to himself: "It depends upon me."

We who hold the minor jobs in this world, no matter what these jobs may be, are sure to be at our best and feel significant if we also can say to ourselves: "It depends upon me." How often has the case been that it has all depended upon the one at the helm. The pilot of a plane, or a great ocean liner, or the engineer of a trans-continental railroad!

How much devolves upon the surgeon, when a life is held in balance. How many a one has said in silence: "It depends upon me." And how many a teacher in school and college has felt the rare responsibility of moulding young minds to think accurately and to a purpose.

It pays to work each day as though something very wonderful might be our good fortune some day. Perhaps the "boss," or the eye of Heaven is upon you as you work. You can say: "It depends upon me not to disappoint myself or anyone who may be counting on me for something higher and better." Not until we reap joy out of what we do from day to day do we really grow and mature. How very rare are the dependables of this earth!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Giving Credit." Protected, 1952, by The George Matthew Adams Service

FIRSTS

He'll be remembered for many a day

Who takes a boy to his first good play.

The lights, the music, the curtain's rise

With joy will widen the youngster's eyes.

And the drama itself, and its every set,

Will be rare delights that he won't forget.

The first watch, too, is a splendid thing

The boy will long be remembering.

He'll live in that youngster's hall of fame

Who takes him first to a big league game.

And whatever it is he is first to give.

That man in memory long will live.

Whatever happens as time takes flight

Will never equal the first delight.

The joy of the first close circus seat

Never again will the years repeat.

And I'd like to think when my life's rehearsed.

To gladden a boy I was once the first.

BIG TELEGRAPH STRIKE BREAKS; OTHERS CURBED

Washington, April 3 (AP)—An almost 100 per cent strike of Western Union telegraph workers hit the nation's telegraph system today but federal mediators managed to stall telephone strikes in three states.

There is no connection between the two disputes. Both involve union demands for higher wages and new work contracts.

The Western Union walkout came promptly on time at one minute after midnight. Except for San Antonio, Tex., where the union postponed its walkout for 24 hours, there was no report that any of Western Union's 3,000 larger offices failed to heed the strike call of Adolph Brungs, union president. The union is the AFL's Commercial Telegraphers Union (CTU).

Observers felt the strike delay in San Antonio might be linked to the fact the area has heavy army and air force installations.

31,000 In Walkout

Of the company's 42,000 employees, about 31,000 are directly involved in the walkout. The others are supervisory workers and most of the company's New York city employees. The latter belong to another union.

Brungs said telegram service was "cut to a dribble" by the strike. In some cities, supervisors attempted to keep offices open and telegrams moving. They concentrated their efforts in 15 key relay points, technically called repeater centers, where long-distance telegrams are received from nearby points and then relayed straight through to the relay center nearest destination.

The company said in a statement the strike would stop operations "for a temporary period" in all but "private wire and telemeter service." The statement said its cables between New York and Europe would not be affected.

The union said pickets would be on constant duty at all major offices.

Postpone To Monday

The telephone situation eased early this morning with a postponement until Monday of walkouts by 40,000 CIO Communications Workers (CWA) in Michigan, Ohio and northern California.

Union officials said they postponed the strike to give federal mediators more time to work out settlement terms.

An estimated 300,000 CWA phone workers are in the middle of new contract talks. Contracts are expiring for all these workers between now and August.

Striking Western Union employees have no strike fund, Brungs said, but have been "preparing" for the walkout for weeks. Brungs would not guess how long the strike might last. He said it was the first full-scale telegraph strike since 1919.

The government had no plan to take extraordinary action in the strike, on grounds it does not affect the national safety.

Wages in both the telephone and telegraph industries average between $1.53 and $1.63 an hour.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

IT DEPENDS UPON ME

When a person learns to bear responsibility he learns to live. And as soon as he believes that many things depend upon him, and him alone, he begins to climb!

There may be no such a person as the "indispensable" one, but when one is efficient, courageous, patient, self-reliant, and dependable, he becomes almost irreplaceable, but when gone he is missed, and often a world mourns his loss.

When a man feels in his heart that what he is engaged in depends upon himself for its full fruition and success, he treads the path of the immortals! History takes note of him, and mothers name their babies after him! How many a great leader, at a crucial moment in history, has said to himself: "It depends upon me."

We who hold the minor jobs in this world, no matter what these jobs may be, are sure to be at our best and feel significant if we also can say to ourselves: "It depends upon me." How often has the case been that it has all depended upon the one at the helm. The pilot of a plane, or a great ocean liner, or the engineer of a trans-continental railroad!

How much devolves upon the surgeon, when a life is held in balance. How many a one has said in silence: "It depends upon me." And how many a teacher in school and college has felt the rare responsibility of moulding young minds to think accurately and to a purpose.

It pays to work each day as though something very wonderful might be our good fortune some day. Perhaps the "boss," or the eye of Heaven is upon you as you work. You can say: "It depends upon me not to disappoint myself or anyone who may be counting on me for something higher and better." Not until we reap joy out of what we do from day to day do we really grow and mature. How very rare are the dependables of this earth!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Giving Credit." Protected, 1952, by The George Matthew Adams Service

FIRSTS

He'll be remembered for many a day

Who takes a boy to his first good play.

The lights, the music, the curtain's rise

With joy will widen the youngster's eyes.

And the drama itself, and its every set,

Will be rare delights that he won't forget.

The first watch, too, is a splendid thing

The boy will long be remembering.

He'll live in that youngster's hall of fame

Who takes him first to a big league game.

And whatever it is he is first to give,

That man in memory long will live.

Whatever happens as time takes flight

Will never equal the first delight.

The joy of the first close circus seat

Never again will the years repeat.

And I'd like to think when my life's rehearsed,

To gladden a boy I was once the first.

BIG TELEGRAPH STRIKE BREAKS; OTHERS CURBED

Washington, April 3 (AP)—An all-most 100 per cent strike of Western Union telegraph workers hit the nation's telegraph system today but federal mediators managed to stall telephone strikes in three states.

There is no connection between the two disputes. Both involve union demands for higher wages and new work contracts.

The Western Union walkout came promptly on time at one minute after midnight. Except for San Antonio, Tex., where the union postponed its walkout for 24 hours, there was no report that any of Western Union's 3,000 larger offices failed to heed the strike call of Adolph Brungs, union president.

The union is the AFL's Commercial Telegraphers Union (CTU). Observers felt the strike delay in San Antonio might be linked to the fact the area has heavy army and air force installations.

31,000 In Walkout

Of the company's 42,000 employees, about 31,000 are directly involved in the walkout. The others are supervisory workers and most of the company's New York city employees. The latter belong to another union.

Brungs said telegram service was "cut to a dribble" by the strike. In some cities, supervisors attempted to keep offices open and telegrams moving. They concentrated their efforts in 15 key relay points, technically called reperforator centers, where long-distance telegrams are received from nearby points and then relayed straight through to the relay center nearest destination.

The company said in a statement the strike would stop operations "for a temporary period" in all but "private wire and teletype service." The statement said its cables between New York and Europe would not be affected.

The union said pickets would be on constant duty at all major offices.

Postpone To Monday

The telephone situation eased early this morning with a postponement until Monday of walkouts by 40,000 CIO Communications Workers (CWA) in Michigan, Ohio and northern California.

Union officials said they postponed the strike to give federal mediators more time to work out settlement terms.

An estimated 300,000 CWA phone workers are in the middle of new contract talks. Contracts are expiring for all these workers between now and August.

Striking Western Union employees have no strike fund, Brungs said, but have been "preparing" for the walkout for weeks. Brungs would not guess how long the strike might last. He said it was the first full-scale telegraph strike since 1919.

The government had no plan to take extraordinary action in the strike, on grounds it does not affect the national safety.

Wages in both the telephone and telegraph industries average between $1.53 and $1.63 an hour.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

← Bird lesson

Ever watch a pair of birds build a nest and rear a family? It's a fascinating process. Both birds co-operate in building the nest and raising the young ones. Co-operation works on party-line telephones too. You co-operate with others on the line when you spread out a series of calls... answer your telephone promptly and hang up properly when you're finished. The result is better telephone service for your neighbors and for yourself!

A voice crossed the ocean

Long after midnight they waited in a little room at the Eiffel Tower in Paris—two Bell System telephone engineers and a French officer. Not far away, the guns of World War I rumbled. It was October, 1915, and the men were waiting for a miracle—the miracle of a voice crossing the ocean. At last, they heard it—a faint whisper, at first, but stronger at the end. The thing had been done—radio-telephony had reached across the ocean. It was a historic moment in communications; telephone engineers had opened the way to round-the-world telephone service!

April is a good month to — Pay the neighbors a visit... Repair poultry range stoves... Drain anti-freeze and flush radiators in cars and tractors after the threat of frost has passed... Look over the results of last year's corn yield trials before you pick your own hybrids... Make sure your name on the mailbox is easy to read... Tattoo purebred spring calves... Breed sows for early fall litters... Vaccinate spring pigs for cholera... Put the corn planter in good shape... Make garden... Spray meadows for spittlebug to increase hay yields—see the County Agent for directions.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

Bird lesson

Ever watch a pair of birds build a nest and rear a family? It's a fascinating process. Both birds co-operate in building the nest and raising the young ones. Co-operation works on party-line telephones too. You co-operate with others on the line when you spread out a series of calls . . . answer your telephone promptly . . . and hang up properly when you're finished. The result is better telephone service for your neighbors and for yourself!

A voice crossed the ocean

Long after midnight they waited in a little room at the Eiffel Tower in Paris — two Bell System telephone engineers and a French officer. Not far away, the guns of World War I rumbled. It was October, 1915, and the men were waiting for a miracle — the miracle of a voice crossing the ocean. At last, they heard it — a faint whisper, at first, but stronger at the end. The thing had been done — radio-telephony had reached across the ocean. It was a historic moment in communications; telephone engineers had opened the way to round-the-world telephone service!

S. MAY SEIZE STEEL PLANTS TO AVERT STRIKE

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The Truman administration held over the steel industry today a threat to government seizure unless a strike due next Tuesday is averted. The effect of the seizure threat—whether or not it is carried out—was to increase pressure on the industry to grant government-suggested wage boosts to Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers.

About 700,000 of the union's one million members are ready for a walkout in the basic steel industry at midnight April 8. The other workers, mainly in steel fabricating plants, are ineligible to strike at the moment.

Want Price Boost
Steelworkers have said they cannot afford to give Murray the 17-1/2 percent hourly pay boost, plus union shop and other benefits, without getting government permission to raise prices. The government apparently was standing firm against increases in prices, contending it would cause more inflation.

The seizure threat brought a heated reaction from Congress. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said it would be "very high-handed and arbitrary" and, to him, illegal. Senators George D. (Ga.) and Maybank (D-S. C.) also doubted legal authority for taking over the industry.

Even government lawyers, instructed by John R. Steelman, acting defense mobilization boss, to consider all eventualities, seemed none too sure of the legal basis for seizure.

Prepare Seizure Powers
Chairman Murray (D-Mont.) ordered the Senate Labor committee staff to draft legislation spelling out seizure powers in more detail, including authority for the government to keep part of a seized industry's profits and to pay out wage boosts.

It was known that the steel industry long has feared government operation of its facilities, as has come about in so many foreign countries. Steel firms reportedly instructed their lawyers to be ready to fight any government move in that direction.

Long-delayed company-union negotiations again were scheduled to start in New York today but there was no indication of a break from either side. Murray, in New York for the negotiations, declined comment.

Henry J. Kaiser announced last night that he had reached an agreement with the steelworkers based on the government's wage increase proposals covering more than 5,000 workers at Kaiser's Fontana plant in southern California. This was the union's biggest settlement so far, but Kaiser is a relatively small producer.

Steelworkers at the Fontana plant will get an average increase in 1952 of slightly over 18 cents an hour, including straight salary boosts and certain "fringe" benefits.

COP AND THREE OTHERS HELD IN $138,000 THEFT

Pittsburgh, April 3 (AP)—Warrants issued in Butler county charge four men, one a North Braddock policeman, with robbing Craig Saul, wealthy Butler coal operator, of $138,000 after brutal whipping Saul's wife.

The warrants were filed against the four men in Allegheny county jail yesterday. They were ordered held for court on charges they robbed Saul of $2,600 in an earlier holdup on an Allegheny county highway.

The four are Patrolman Fred Burdell, Willie Medcalf, Jack Verrell, and Sam Fratto. All but Burdell are Butler residents.

The four were arrested last week in connection with the $2,600 robbery, which police say occurred on the night of March 12, two days before Saul's home was entered during his absence and the safe opened. Mrs. Saul and two children were home at the time.

Identifies Patrolman
Police admitted questioning the four in connection with the Butler robbery as well as the highway hijacking but not until yesterday did they indicate there was a connection.

Then Assistant District Attorney Albert A. Fleck said Mrs. Saul identified Patrolman Burdell as the gunman who struck her and others opened the home safe and took the $138,000.

The four were given preliminary hearings last night before Alderman Thomas G. Davis Jr. on the highway charge.

The nature of evidence against the four in the robbery at Saul's home was not disclosed except that Mrs. Saul had identified Burdell. Fred Mathias, chief of Allegheny county detectives, said it has been learned that Fratto made a telephone call to Saul at his mine just a half-hour before the Saul home was entered.

Reports $2,600 Theft
Saul testified at last night's hearing that Burdell took the $2,600 from him after saying Saul "looked like a numbers writer."

Saul identified Burdell and the others who robbed him on the highway near Wilkesburg. Saul said Mendicino was driving him to Butler from Pittsburgh when he was robbed.

He testified that Mendicino stopped the car and told him "the police are behind us."

Saul said Burdell appeared a few seconds later and checked Mendicino's identifications and claimed he found numbers writing slips. Saul quoted the policeman as saying "It looks like you are numbers writers."

The coal operator said the policeman then took his wallet but when he handed it back the $2,600 was gone. "Then," Saul said, "he ordered us to get out."

B-29 CRASHES; TWO MEN DIE

Vermillion, Kas., April 3 (AP)—Two air force men were killed early today when a B-29 crashed on a farm near this northeast Kansas town. Other crewmen parachuted to safety.

First reports there were 12 survivors, but Sheriff Oliver Jones of Nemaha county said he was told ten men had bailed out of the big plane.

The body of an air force colonel was found near the wreckage. Later searchers found the body of a corporal whose parachute had failed to open.

The plane plowed into a herd of cattle bedded down for the night in a cowlot. Eight of the cattle, owned by Lloyd (CQ) Robbins, were killed.

Jones said none of the survivors was reported seriously injured. One, he said, had his arm in a sling, apparently from an arm or shoulder injury.

"The plane hit on the north side of a road, then scooted across the road into a pasture," the sheriff said. "It cut through an REA light wire. Part of the plane burned. The wreckage was scattered for a distance of about 1,000 feet, from where the plane first hit the ground to where it stopped."

Sentenced To Die For Slaying Wife

Scranton, Pa., April 3 (AP)—William Patskin, 44, convicted of murdering his wife, Mary, 42, was sentenced to death in the electric chair today by Judge M. J. Eagen.

Patskin, burly Jefferson township farmer, stood straight as sentence was pronounced. He then was taken back to the Lackawanna county jail. The date of execution will be set by the governor.

Patskin killed his wife last May 10, during a quarrel while they rode in his auto along a mountain road near the Patskin farm.

Patskin admitted battering his wife with an ax and then strangling her but his defense was insanity.

New Castle, Pa., April 3 (AP)—Democratic leaders in Lawrence county today boomed Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) for the Democratic nomination for President.

In a resolution endorsing Sen. Kefauver, the Democratic leaders pointed Kefauver out as a candidate who "represents the outstanding challenge in America to the invisible government of racketeers and influence peddlers."

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The army engineers' newest estimate for providing additional flood protection in the area of Ridgway and St. Mary's, Pa., is $879,000.

The estimate was made by Lt. Col. Harold E. Nelson, acting army district engineer at Pittsburgh, and submitted to Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) Gavin made it available to a reporter. The estimate for Ridgway was $423,500 of federal funds and $10,000 of non-federal funds.

M'GRATH FIRES MORRIS AS TOP INVESTIGATOR

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath today fired Newbold Morris as the administration's corruption sleuth.

The attorney general made public a curt letter to the New York Republican notifying him of the immediate termination of his services.

McGrath personally handed copies of the letter to reporters at the Justice Department, but declined to answer any questions as to whether President Truman had formally approved the action.

The firing followed a series of McGrath-Truman talks yesterday—including an apparently heated argument at National airport here while the two were waiting to greet Queen Juliana of The Netherlands.

Appointed Month Ago
There had been some speculation that McGrath himself might be let out in the row over a financial questionnaire Morris posed for government officials.

McGrath, himself, on February 1 appointed the 50-year-old Morris, former president of the New York City council, to ferret out corruption in the government.

Last Monday, however, McGrath told a House investigating committee he did not know whether he would fill out his own questionnaire, and had not ordered any one else in his department to do so. He also said that if he had the appointment to make again he would not pick Morris.

Morris, who asked McGrath and nearly 600 other top Justice Department officials to fill out detailed questionnaires about their personal finances, has been standing by saying nothing.

McGrath was flushed and looked indignant during yesterday's exchange at the airport, and the President was unsmiling.

They stood some distance away from other waiting dignitaries and newsmen and their words could not be overheard.

Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, joined in the discussion, punctuating his words by slamming his fist against his palm. After about five minutes the President, his lips forming a thin, severe line, turned on his heel and joined another group.

McGrath and Short continued talking. By the time Queen Juliana's plane arrived things had cooled off and McGrath was the third dignitary presented to the queen by the President.

Instead of accompanying the parade downtown, however, McGrath returned immediately to his office. He said he had no comment when a reporter asked him if he would care to state the subject matter of his "gesticulating conference" with the President.

No Explanation
Nor was there any explanation from the White House.

Last night McGrath and his wife were among the guests at the President's state dinner in honor of the visiting queen.

McGrath had spent 15 minutes with the President at the White House earlier in the day and when he left he told reporters: "Anything that is to be said about our discussion will be said by the President or his staff."

One guess being tossed around on what happened at the airport was that McGrath may have become annoyed when the afternoon passed without the President or his staff saying anything.

Thus far McGrath has not filled out Morris' questionnaire. Nor has he instructed any of his subordinates to do so. He told a House judiciary subcommittee which is investigating his department that he has not decided whether he is going to fill it out.

HOUSE IS NEAR "SHOWDOWN" ON VATICAN ISSUE

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, April 3 (AP)—House members moved warily today toward a showdown on the question of United States diplomatic representation at Vatican City.

The issue comes to a head in a $1,069,992,859 appropriation bill financing the State, Justice and Commerce Departments for 12 months starting July 1.

In the bill is a ban against use of State Department funds to finance a diplomatic mission to the pope's headquarters unless the first head of that mission is confirmed by the Senate. The Senate last year adjourned without acting on President Truman's last-minute nomination of Gen. Mark Clark to be ambassador to the Vatican. The nomination was withdrawn at Clark's request.

Rep. Rooney (D-N. Y.) has announced he will try to knock out the new bill's provision, which another Democrat, Rep. O'Toole of New York, has called "a shameful subterfuge."

Rep. Preston (D-Ga.), sponsor of the provision which the appropriations committee approved 19 to 17 last week, is ready to defend it. Preston told newsmen it is not aimed at the Catholic church and would not prevent the President from sending a personal representative to the pope, as President Roosevelt did.

"The sole and only purpose of this provision," Preston said, "is to follow the traditional law concerning diplomatic missions; to require the Senate to confirm an ambassador or a minister to whatever post he is nominated. This won't prevent appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican if the President nominates one and the Senate confirms the nomination."

The attorney general made public a curt letter to the New York Republican notifying him of the immediate termination of his services.

Last Monday, however, McGrath told a House investigating committee he did not know whether he would fill out his own questionnaire, and had not ordered any one else in his department to do so. He also said that if he had the appointment to make again he would not pick Morris.

Morris, who asked McGrath and nearly 600 other top Justice Department officials to fill out detailed questionnaires about their personal finances, has been standing by saying nothing.

McGrath was flushed and looked indignant during yesterday's exchange at the airport, and the President was unsmiling.

They stood some distance away from other waiting dignitaries and newsmen and their words could not be overheard.

Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, joined in the discussion, punctuating his words by slamming his fist against his palm. After about five minutes the President, his lips forming a thin, severe line, turned on his heel and joined another group.

McGrath and Short continued talking. By the time Queen Juliana's plane arrived things had cooled off and McGrath was the third dignitary presented to the queen by the President.

Instead of accompanying the parade downtown, however, McGrath returned immediately to his office. He said he had no comment when a reporter asked him if he would care to state the subject matter of his "gesticulating conference" with the President.

No Explanation
Nor was there any explanation from the White House.

Last night McGrath and his wife were among the guests at the President's state dinner in honor of the visiting queen.

McGrath had spent 15 minutes with the President at the White House earlier in the day and when he left he told reporters: "Anything that is to be said about our discussion will be said by the President or his staff."

One guess being tossed around on what happened at the airport was that McGrath may have become annoyed when the afternoon passed without the President or his staff saying anything.

Thus far McGrath has not filled out Morris' questionnaire. Nor has he instructed any of his subordinates to do so. He told a House judiciary subcommittee which is investigating his department that he has not decided whether he is going to fill it out.

HOUSE IS NEAR "SHOWDOWN" ON VATICAN ISSUE

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, April 3 (AP)—House members moved warily today toward a showdown on the question of United States diplomatic representation at Vatican City.

The issue comes to a head in a $1,069,992,859 appropriation bill financing the State, Justice and Commerce Departments for 12 months starting July 1.

In the bill is a ban against use of State Department funds to finance a diplomatic mission to the pope's headquarters unless the first head of that mission is confirmed by the Senate. The Senate last year adjourned without acting on President Truman's last-minute nomination of Gen. Mark Clark to be ambassador to the Vatican. The nomination was withdrawn at Clark's request.

Rep. Rooney (D-N. Y.) has announced he will try to knock out the new bill's provision, which another Democrat, Rep. O'Toole of New York, has called "a shameful subterfuge."

Rep. Preston (D-Ga.), sponsor of the provision which the appropriations committee approved 19 to 17 last week, is ready to defend it.

Preston told newsmen it is not aimed at the Catholic church and would not prevent the President from sending a personal representative to the pope, as President Roosevelt did.

"The sole and only purpose of this provision," Preston said, "is to follow the traditional law concerning diplomatic missions; to require the Senate to confirm an ambassador or a minister to whatever post he is nominated. This won't prevent appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican if the President nominates one and the Senate confirms the nomination."

TRYING TO AVERT BUTCHERS' WALKOUT

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP) — The management of Food Fair Store, Inc., and the AFL Meat Cutters union center today in an attempt to avert a walkout of butchers set for Saturday.

About 4,000 union members voted Sunday to strike against "one or two" of four supermarket chains in the Philadelphia area over a wage disagreement. Yesterday, Leon B. Schachter, the union's retail joint council chairman, disclosed the Sat- urday deadline for a strike.

Schachter said a $5 weekly pay boost had been agreed upon but that the union was pressing for a 40 hour work week instead of the present 43 hour week.

Wage scales were unavailable.

UP TO TRUMAN TO MAKE PUTOUT IN DOUBLE PLAY

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 3 (P)—The old Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance routine was like a soft-ball game compared with the Morris-to-McGrath-to-Truman double-play in which the president has to make the put-out.

Newbold Morris and J. Howard McGrath—the president's two top investigators whose own conduct has been investigated by Congress—haven't much in common except years in politics and an ability to get into jams.

Although Attorney General McGrath's justice department order would be the chief investigator of government corruption, the Truman administration seemed to think it necessary to bring in an outsider.

Interesting Beginning

After several better-known men had turned down the job McGrath suggested Morris and President Truman appointed him special assistant to McGrath. At once Morris announced he'd start off investigating McGrath's department.

This in itself was interesting but not any more so than Morris' performance when he went before a Senate committee which wanted to quiz him about his law firm's connection with a ship deal.

While Morris is a New York city boy of 50 who batted well in the political league there, he got off to a country boy's start shortly after landing here where the political sluggers use lead pipes.

Like Bunting To Outfield

Morris insulted the senators, hardly the social thing to do because anyone could have told him when any insulting is done at a Senate hearing it's usually done by the Senators.

You could almost hear them count to ten to keep their tempers. What they said about him—something about over-emotional—was mild compared with what they did to him. They refused to let him have the subpoena power President Truman asked for him.

This was the same as telling a man to hunt to the outfield, for his investigation could never be more than half an investigation if he lacked the power to compel witnesses to testify.

Still, he tried to operate. He called a big news conference and announced he was sending a long questionnaire to McGrath and the key men in the justice department, demanding intimate information about their financial affairs.

Complicated Problem

This week McGrath went before a House judiciary subcommittee which is eager to check on the justice department itself and wants a look at McGrath's income tax returns.

While McGrath and the Congressmen are bating the ball around he said he (1) not only hadn't filled out Morris' questionnaire but didn't know whether he would; (2) hadn't distributed it to the other justice department people; and (3) wouldn't have recommended Morris as investigator if he had it to do over again.

Here was a double-play the like of which the president hasn't been mixed up in since he's been in the White House.

Could he uphold McGrath and let Morris go? And if he did, how would that look in this political year when Truman knows corruption in government will be a campaign issue?

Would Eisenhower's Farm Be Summer White House?

(By The Associated Press)

The farm folk of Adams county are casting speculative glances these days at "Eisenhower's place"—the 100-year old red brick house that looks across its 180 acres toward the Civil war battlefield.

The issue in speculation: Would Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower use the farm as the "summer White House" if he were nominated by the Republican party in July and won the presidential election this fall?

Those suggesting that the farm might be put to such use point out that: (1) Eisenhower is deeply attached to the place which he has had no chance to enjoy since buying it in November, 1950, (2) the farm is secluded enough to give a Washington-weary president all the calm he might desire and (3) the farm is just a two-hour drive from the nation's capital.

Friend Is Manager

The old farmhouse which lies almost in the shadow of the Blue Ridge mountains in south-central Pennsylvania has changed a lot in Eisenhower's absence in Europe. One of Eisenhower's first moves after he became a Pennsylvania farmer in absentia was to select a retired Brigadier General, Arthur S. Nevins—an old friend—as his farm manager.

Nevins, a farmer in his own right, is living on the place with his wife.

Insurance Agent And Ex-Postmaster Dies

Danville, Pa., April 3 (P)—Thomas G. Vincent, who operated an insurance agency and held numerous political offices during his career, died at Geisinger Memorial hospital yesterday. He was 79.

Vincent had served as postmaster of Danville, Montour county register of wills and recorder of deeds for five terms and as prothonotary and clerk of county courts.

A Democrat, Vincent was named postmaster of Danville by President Woodrow Wilson. He was a trustee of the Geisinger Memorial hospital.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. James D. Jacobs, of Sydney, Australia, now at Danville; Mrs. C. E. McCormick, Tampa, Fla.; and Mrs. J. Henry Hooper, Baltimore.

1:30 p.m. Irving Miller U. S. Air Force, who spent a month's furlough with his mother, after having been overseas, left on Monday for Texas where he will be stationed.

Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner spent several days last week in Baltimore visiting with Clifford Meckill at the University of Maryland hospital and with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Haskins and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bosley. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bosley and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roensteel were at the church on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Roensteel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, Little Md.

Clifford Meckill returned to his home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner on Sunday, after spending a week before going to the hospital for further treatment. Clifford has been in the hospital for the past 5 1/2 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner and Clifford Meckill spent last Sunday at Walkersville where Mrs. Meckill was a guest speaker at a World Service program.

and has made the house warm and cheerful again.

The farm is somewhat of a partnership venture with another Eisenhower friend, George E. Allen, White House intimate and author. Eisenhower owns the farm but he and Allen share ownership of the equipment and livestock. Allen owns a nearby 80-acre farm, which Nevins also manages.

Strictly A Farm
The Eisenhower place is being operated strictly as a farm—not as a hobby or showplace. The books show a slight profit at present.

There are 22 cows and 11 calves in the big barn and the 500 white Lehigh hens yield 15 dozen eggs daily.

Of the 189 acres, 48 are devoted to corn, 32 to wheat, 30 to oats and 30 to hay. With the exception of the wheat, all the crop production is used for livestock feed.

Whatever happens in the political or military worlds in the near future, the people of Adams county are certain that sooner or later Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will end his career as a Pennsylvania farmer.

Says Regulations Hit Wildcatters

Pittsburgh, April 3 (P)—A New York banker declared today that federal regulation of gas production will drive wildcatters out of business and seriously handicap big companies.

Lyon F. Terry, vice president of Chase National bank, in an address prepared for delivery at the Eastern District meeting of the American Petroleum Institute, said an ample supply of natural gas for the U.S. depends on letting the law of supply and demand take its course.

"The gas producer, to stay in business, must keep on finding new gas reserves," Terry said. "His profits from production also must repay him for his risks and costs of searching for new supplies."

"It is a hazardous business and the explorers for new supplies can only be induced to carry on if the prospects of high rewards to the successful will make up for the losses of frequent failures."

Terry said only about one well in nine shows gas in sufficient quantities to allow the wildcatters to break even and that only one well in 44 will produce enough gas to let the producer make a good profit. The cost of drilling the average well is about $90,000.

Washington, April 3 (P)—War in Korea, the Defense Department figures, will cost this country a bit over five billion dollars during the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

The department gave the House Appropriations committee—studying the new budget—this breakdown on its estimated spending in Korea for the present fiscal year:

Army $437,697,900; navy $375,000,000; air force $305,000,000.

SAYS PA. BUYING "40-CENT DIME" FROM UNCLE SAM

Washington, April 3 (P)—Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) wants to know when Pennsylvania is going to stop buying what he terms a 40 cent dime.

His reference was to the $492,434,900 civil functions appropriation bill passed by the House yesterday. The bill includes $187,450,000 for rivers and harbor work and $221,232,400 for flood control.

Gavin said in an interview that Pennsylvania would receive 3 1/2 million dollars for rivers and harbor work and $5,700,000 for flood control out of a total of $408,582,400 for such work in the bill.

Estimating that Pennsylvania pays about 10 per cent of the nation's taxes, Gavin figured the state in this instance would be paying out about 40 million dollars and getting back less than 10 million.

"All For Economy"
"I'm all for economy in this emergency period," he said. "But if the Congress is going to appropriate hundreds of millions of dollars for all kinds of projects, then Pennsylvania should receive something close to its proportionate share."

He noted that North and South Dakota, where big projects are under construction, would receive a total of more than 60 million dollars in the bill, Oregon more than 86 million and California more than 38 million.

Gavin said he realizes that allocations must vary from state to state because of location, physical features and other factors. But what annoys him, he said, is that requests by Pennsylvanians for comparatively small amounts for authorized projects are turned down because the appropriations committee points to huge expenditures being made elsewhere.

Furthermore, he said, by helping defray the cost of hydroelectric projects in other parts of the nation, Pennsylvanians and other residents of the northeast "are simply sharpening the knife to cut their own throats."

He said southerners boast that cheap electric power provided by the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) helps make it possible for their mills to under-bid northern mills.

"In other words, Pennsylvania money helped build TVA so that TVA could help close the doors of Pennsylvania mills," he said.

"I hope we'll learn our lesson some day. I'm more interested in seeing coal mined in Pennsylvania than in seeing water go through TVA generators."

Senate Candidate Ruled Off Ballot

Harrisburg, April 3 (P)—The Dauphin county court today formally dismissed the suit of Robert Gray Taylor, of Media, seeking to have his name placed on the April 22 primary ballot as a Republican candidate for U.S. senator.

The ruling conformed to a statement made by Judge Paul Smith after a hearing on Tuesday. The judge then informed Taylor that he was not to be on the ballot.

Taylor contended in his suit that the petitions to place his name on the Republican ballot as a senatorial candidate were withheld from him and he was unable to file them at the state Election bureau before the deadline date.

However, Deputy Attorney General Harrington Adams told the court that Taylor could not have met the Feb. 18 filing date because "the petitions were not circulated prior to that date."

UP TO TRUMAN TO MAKE PUTOUT IN DOUBLE PLAY

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The old Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance routine was like a soft-ball game compared with the Morris-to-McGrath-to-Truman double-play in which the president has to make the put-out.

Newbold Morris and J. Howard McGrath—the president's two top investigators whose own conduct has been investigated by Congress—haven't much in common except years in politics and an ability to get into jams.

Although Attorney General McGrath's justice department ordinarily would be the chief investigator of government corruption, the Truman administration seemed to think it necessary to bring in an outsider.

Interesting Beginning

After several better-known men had turned down the job McGrath suggested Morris and President Truman appointed him special assistant to McGrath. At once Morris announced he'd start off investigating McGrath's department.

This in itself was interesting but not any more so than Morris' performance when he went before a Senate committee which wanted to quiz him about his law firm's connection with a ship deal.

While Morris is a New York city boy of 50 who batted well in the political league there, he got off to a country boy's start shortly after landing here where the political sluggers use lead pipes.

Like Bunting To Outfield

Morris insulted the senators, hardly the social thing to do because anyone could have told him when any insulting is done at a Senate hearing it's usually done by the Senators.

You could almost hear them count to ten to keep their tempers. What they said about him—something about over-emotional—was mild compared with what they did to him. They refused to let him have the subpoena power President Truman asked for him.

This was the same as telling a man to hunt to the outfield, for his investigation could never be more than half an investigation if he lacked the power to compel witnesses to testify.

Still, he tried to operate. He called a big news conference and announced he was sending a long questionnaire to McGrath and the key men in the justice department, demanding intimate information about their financial affairs.

Complicated Problem

This week McGrath went before a House judiciary subcommittee which is eager to check on the justice department itself and wants a look at McGrath's income tax returns.

While McGrath and the Congressmen are bawling the ball around he said he (1) not only hadn't filled out Morris questionnaire but didn't know whether he would; (2) hadn't distributed it to the other justice department people; and (3) wouldn't have recommended Morris as investigator if he had it to do over again.

Here was a double-play the like of which the president hasn't been mixed up in since he's been in the White House.

Could he uphold McGrath and let Morris go? And if he did, how would that look in this political year when Truman knows corruption in government will be a campaign issue?

The ruling conformed to a statement made by Judge Paul Smith after a hearing on Tuesday. The judge then informed Taylor there was no merit to his petition.

Taylor contended in his suit that petitions to place his name on the Republican ballot as a senatorial candidate were withheld from him and he was unable to file them at the state Election bureau before the deadline date.

However, Deputy Attorney General Harrington Adams told the court that Taylor could not have met the Feb. 18 filing date because "the petitions were not circulated prior to that date."

Queen Mother Will Remain In Palace

London, April 3 (AP)—Britain's Queen Mother Elizabeth won't have to live out her widowhood alone. The kids are going to let her stay on at Buckingham palace when they move in after Easter.

Young Queen Elizabeth II upped another royal custom today with her decision. Widowed queens a ways before have moved into other quarters after the new sovereign took the throne and the palace.

The young queen is keeping the family circle intact. She will take over the sovereign's living quarters, now occupied by her mother. The Mother Elizabeth will move into the palace apartment Elizabeth had as a princess. An sprightly Princess Margaret will keep her present rooms, near the ones assigned her mother.

Elizabeth and her husband won't be crowded, though—the palace has 690 rooms.

peace of the meat, Undersecretary Carl Fawcett reported last night.

He identified the man as Milton M. Tuck, 45. A waitress in the restaurant said Tuck ordered steak for himself and a friend, commenting as he paid $5 for the dinner that he was using his last $10 bill.

Deputy sheriffs who answered call for help from the restaurant were unable to revive him.

An autopsy showed he had choked on a piece of meat.

CONGRESS WILL CLEAR NAME OF "SCAPEGOAT"

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Congress has taken steps to clear the name of a naval officer the navy says was court-martialed as a "scapegoat" for the author of the words "Don't give up the ship."

It happened 139 years ago in the war of 1812.

The incident involved Capt. James Lawrence, remembered in history for his famous command, and William S. Cox, a young midshipman who was acting third lieutenant under him.

This is the story, as told Tuesday to the House Armed Services committee:

The Chesapeake and the British frigate, Shannon, fought a bitter close-range engagement on June 1, 1813. Every officer on the Chesapeake, except Lawrence and Cox, had been wounded or killed.

Then Lawrence was hit. The navy says he "requested" Cox to take him below decks for medical treatment, just as the British were preparing to board the American frigate.

Cox was tried. Lawrence died from his wounds. Cox was court-martialed the same year for deserting his post, while commander of the ship, as the only unwounded officer.

But naval historians say now that Cox actually was a "scapegoat" to remove any possibility that "sigma" would cling to the name of Lawrence, a naval hero.

After hearing the story, the com-

WHO WILL GET THE 24 MILLION TRUMAN VOTES?

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Washington, April 3 (P) — President Truman's unequivocal "I shall not accept renomination" today had politicians feverishly trying to figure out the possible 1952 beneficiary or beneficiaries of those 24 million votes Truman polled to confound the experts in 1948.

Some thought they had it all copped out. Others just had hopes. Both groups had axes to grind for favorite sons. Neutral observers witnessed the historic pronouncement of Saturday night preferred to wait and see what happens at the nominating convention in Chicago this July.

Democratic leaders differed as to whether they thought the President would try to dictate his successor. Some thought he would accept a hands-off attitude and thus bring about a wide-open convention for the first time in 20 years.

Rough Scrap Ahead
Others believed he would step in only if he saw the nomination going to someone who does not stand four-square for his foreign and domestic program.

A third group feels he will try to persuade Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois to make a bid for the nomination or at least let it be known that he would be receptive to a convention call.

Whatever the President does in the coming months, the competition for delegates in the April, May and June primaries and conventions is expected to take on the aspects of a rough and tumble scrap. They're on their own now and there are no "if" or "and or" candidates anymore.

And there are party veterans who say the July 21 convention in Chicago will be the least controlled since 1932 ever if the President tries to exert his influence. They say Truman hasn't the hold he used to have on his party organization.

Some Criticisms
They say among other things that:

1—He waited too long to make his announcement of impending retirement, leaving too short a time before the convention to "build up"

allegedly did not take them into his confidence beforehand.

3—His belated and ill-fated entrance into the New Hampshire primary after calling preferential primaries eyewash and his refusal to back a pro-Truman "unity" slate of delegate candidates in California cost him considerable prestige both among rank and file Democrats and organization leaders.

Republicans aspiring to the presidency no doubt will put their pre-convention machines in full speed now that the man they regarded as the strongest the Democrats could put up has decided to let another make the race.

CANCER MONTH

Harrisburg, April 3 (P) — Gov. John S. Pine yesterday proclaimed April as cancer month in Pennsylvania and urged all residents to contribute to the campaign of the Pennsylvania division of the American Cancer Society.

In other proclamations the governor designated April 10 as Free School Day in commemoration of the signing of the state's Free School Act in 1934. He asked Pennsylvanians to observe Good Friday by attending religious services.

Lecturer Is Year Early For Speech

Hays, Kas., April 3 (P) — It all just goes to show you—once in a while a woman can be early for an appointment.

Miss Ismet Sanlin, a speaker from Turkey on a national tour, arrived here Tuesday to address the Knife and Fork club.

She phoned Bill Roberts, secretary of the club. Roberts hustled to the depot but was mildly astonished when he saw Miss Sanlin.

It seems the club's next speaker—a man—was scheduled for May 3.

Miss Sanlin, who will talk on "Turkey with All the Dressing," is scheduled for April, 1953.

FERENC MOLNAR DIES

New York, April 3 (P) — Author Ferenc Molnar, 74, whose "Lohom" became a theatrical classic, died Tuesday after a long illness.

The Hungarian-born Molnar, who came to the U. S. in 1940 as a refugee, wrote his first play "The Devil" in 1907. He started his literary career as a newspaperman and novelist.

"Lohom," his best-known work, was filmed by Hollywood and in 1946 was produced as a hit musical play under the title, "Carousel." Others of his better-known works are "The Red Mill" and "The Guardsman."

Paris, April 3 (P) — The French cabinet has named Jean Letourneau to be high commissioner for Indochina.

Letourneau, now the cabinet minister responsible for Indochina, fills the post left vacant by the death in January of Marshal Jean De Lattre De Tassigny.

His appointment means that France's rich Far Eastern possession, sorely beset by Communist-led rebels, once more will have a civilian in the top post. The last such high commissioner was Leon Pignon, who De Lattre replaced in December, 1950.

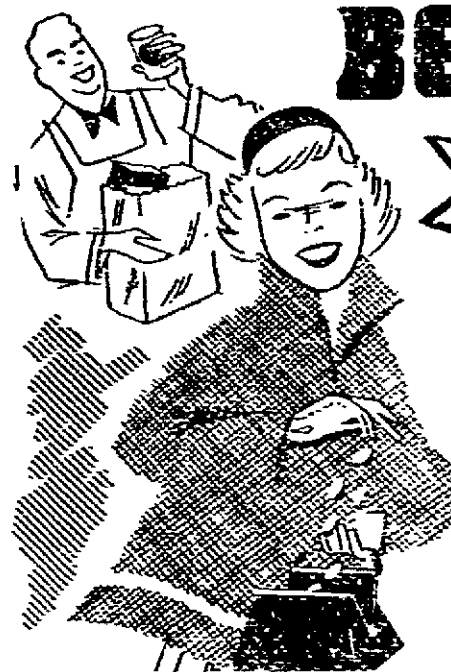

Although the Romans occupied England for 400 years they never conquered Ireland.

RIDES JET AT 89
Santa Ana, Calif., April 3 (P) — It's wonderful," said 89-year-old James W. Montee. "Smooth as silk."
Montee, the nation's oldest licensed pilot, was commenting on his first ride in a jet plane. He's flown just about everything else and riding a jet was his dearest wish. He went aloft yesterday with a Marine officer at the controls, and was allowed to handle the two-place trainer for awhile.
Harrisburg, April 3 (P) — Premiums and contest awards at the 1952 State Farm show set a new all-time record with a total of $41,022. Payment was completed by the Farm Show commission on Monday.
Chairman Miles Horst, State Agriculture secretary, said the total topped last year's record payment by $2,340 or 6.3 percent.
Final checks mailed out this week totaled $13,611 for all competitive exhibits and activities except live stock for which checks aggregating a record $27,411 were dispatched last week.

WHO WILL GET THE 24 MILLION TRUMAN VOTES?

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Washington, April 3 (AP)—President Truman's unequivocal "I shall not accept renomination" today had politicians feverishly trying to figure out the possible 1952 beneficiary or beneficiaries of those 24 million votes Truman polled to confound the experts in 1948.

Some thought they had it all doped out. Others just had hopes. Both groups had axes to grind for favorite sons. Neutral observers who witnessed the historic pronouncement of Saturday night preferred to wait and see what happens at the nominating convention in Chicago this July.

Democratic leaders differed as to whether they thought the President would try to dictate his successor. Some thought he would adopt a hands-off attitude and thus bring about a wide-open convention for the first time in 20 years.

Rough Scrap Ahead
Others believed he would step in only if he saw the nomination going to someone who does not stand four-square for his foreign and domestic program.

A third group feels he will try to persuade Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois to make a bid for the nomination or at least let it be known that he would be receptive to a convention call.

Whatever the President does in the coming months, the competition for delegates in the April, May and June primaries and conventions is expected to take on the aspects of a rough and tumble scrap. They're on their own now and there are no "if" or "and/or" candidates anymore.

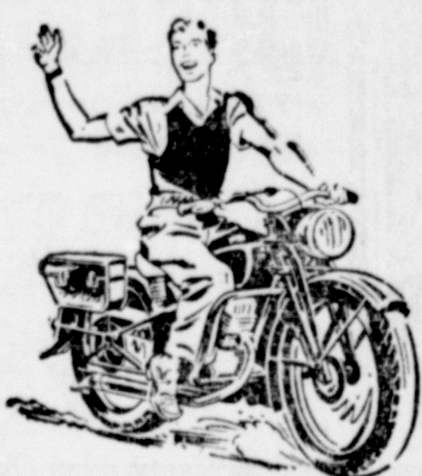

And there are party veterans who say the July 21 convention in Chicago will be the least controlled since 1932 even if the President tries to exert his influence. They say Truman hasn't the hold he used to have on his party organization.

Some Criticisms
They say among other things that:
1—He waited too long to make his announcement of impending retirement, leaving too short a time before the convention to "build up"

Bonneauville

Bonneauville — Maurice and Terence Golden, Cazenovia, N. Y., spent last week-end with their aunts, the Misses Mary, Theresa and Anna Golden, while enroute to their home after spending six weeks in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Miller visited Dr. and Mrs. Frank Marino in Baltimore Sunday evening. They were accompanied home by Miss Jean Miller who had spent the week-end there.

A. J. Golden, York, spent Sunday here.

allegedly did not take them into his confidence beforehand.

3—His belated and ill-fated entrance into the New Hampshire primary after calling preferential primaries eyewash and his refusal to back a pro-Truman "unity" slate of delegate candidates in California cost him considerable prestige both among rank and file Democrats and organization leaders.

Republicans aspiring to the presidency no doubt will put their pre-convention machines in full speed now that the man they regarded as the strongest the Democrats could put up has decided to let another make the race.

CANCER MONTH

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday proclaimed April as cancer month in Pennsylvania and urged all residents to contribute to the campaign of the Pennsylvania division of the American Cancer Society.

In other proclamations the governor designated April 10 as Free School Day in commemoration of the signing of the state's Free School Act in 1934. He asked Pennsylvanians to observe Good Friday by attending religious services.

Lecturer Is Year Early For Speech

Hays, Kas., April 3 (AP)—It all just goes to show you—once in a while a woman can be early for an appointment.

Miss Ismet Sanlin, a speaker from Turkey on a national tour, arrived here Tuesday to address the Knife and Fork club.

She phoned Bill Roberts, secretary of the club, Roberts hustled to the depot but was mildly astonished when he saw Miss Sanlin.

It seems the club's next speaker—a man—was scheduled for May 8.

Miss Sanlin, who will talk on "Turkey with All the Dressing," is scheduled for April, 1953.

PERENC MOLNAR DIES

New York, April 3 (AP)—Author Ferenc Molnar, 74, whose "Liliom" became a theatrical classic, died Tuesday after a long illness.

The Hungarian-born Molnar, who came to the U. S. in 1940 as a refugee, wrote his first play "The Devil," in 1907. He started his literary career as a newspaperman and novelist.

"Liliom," his best-known work, was filmed by Hollywood and in 1946 was produced as a hit musical play under the title, "Carousel." Others of his better-known works are "The Red Mill" and "The Guardsman."

Paris, April 3 (AP)—The French cabinet has named Jean Letourneau to be high commissioner for Indochina.

Letourneau, now the cabinet minister responsible for Indochina, fills the post left vacant by the death in January of Marshal Jean De Lattre De Tassigny.

His appointment means that France's rich Far Eastern possessions, sorely beset by Communist-led rebels, once more will have a civilian in the top post. The last such high commissioner was Leon Pignon, who De Lattre replaced in December, 1950.

Although the Romans occupied England for 400 years they never conquered Ireland.

RIDES JET AT 89

Santa Ana, Calif., April 3 (AP)—It's wonderful," said 89-year-old James W. Montee. "Smooth as silk."

Montee, the nation's oldest licensed pilot, was commenting on his first ride in a jet plane. He's flown just about everything else and riding a jet was his dearest wish. He went aloft yesterday with a Marine officer at the controls, and was allowed to handle the two-place trainer for awhile.

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Premiums and contest awards at the 1952 State Farm show set a new all-time record with a total of $41,022. Payment was completed by the Farm Show commission on Monday.

Chairman Miles Horst, State Agriculture secretary, said the total topped last year's record payment by $2,340 or 6.3 percent.

Final checks mailed out this week totaled $13,611 for all competitive exhibits and activities except livestock for which checks aggregating a record $27,411 were dispatched last week.

CRITICISM IS OCCUPATIONAL HAZARD IN D. C.

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, April 3 (AP)—Nobodies get out of date so fast as the man who used to be a government official. Charles E. Wilson was reminded of that Monday at 5:02 p.m. He's ex-mobilizer of defense. He became ex- at 5 p.m.

Washington inhabitants have seen so many men follow one another in big jobs so fast that is not unnatural if they have developed an attitude of "what are you waiting around for, Jack?" toward an ex-who lingers.

Not that Wilson intended to linger. On the contrary, he seemed glad to be going. He hadn't been fired. He quit. This robust, red-faced 66-year-old with hair still brown and plentiful was not at all mournful.

Not An Easy Job
He called a news conference at 4 p.m., he said, to sing his swan song and tell the newsmen how much he enjoyed working with them since he came here in the fall of 1951, after the Korean outbreak, to head defense production.

It wasn't an easy job, and wouldn't be for anyone. Wilson came here at a personal sacrifice. When President Truman tapped him for the mobilizer's job, Wilson quit as president of the General Electric company.

His job here was quite a job: Getting factory wheels turning, providing the military with what they needed while being sure civilians got what they needed. At the same time he had to control inflation.

Being tall and vigorous, the task didn't seem to wear him down, although he worked long hours and was smart enough, from previous

Washington experience, to say little since even a little tan always be used against you.

Occupational Hazard
Nevertheless, he encountered some criticism, which is an occupational hazard in Washington, and got into some arguments particularly with labor which never has seemed very tender toward him.

When the labor representatives on the Wage Stabilization board (WSB), which is part of Wilson's anti-inflation set-up, didn't like Wilson's attitude toward labor they walked out and blasted him.

This was patched up, the WSB was reorganized, and the labor representatives returned. This was Wilson's biggest public squabble, until the last one, which was when he figured he had had enough.

Excavation has been done at the former Robert Jacobs property, east of town, to build a new bungalow for Alvin H. Herr. The site adjoins the George L. Shetter apartment building.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Livingston with her niece Mrs. Robert S. Laa, accompanied by another niece, Mrs. Elmer Paxton, York, and Mrs. Livingston's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McClure, Dillsburg, made a motor trip to Carlisle during the past week to visit relatives and friends.

The senior choir of Trinity Lutheran church under the direction of Miss Mae B. Wolf is preparing to present the cantata "Redemption's Song" at the church on the evening of Easter Sunday.

Philip, younger son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alton M. Leister of the Reformed parish, has been confined to bed by serious illness. His sisters, Mary Edna and Ruth Ellen, pupils at the local school, both of whom were also very ill this month, are now able to leave their home.

The condition of Miss Minerva Trovite, who has been a patient at the Hanover hospital for two weeks because of a fall at her home in which she cracked a vertebra, is reported very satisfactory despite her 73 years.

Mrs. Harry E. Serff has returned to her home after spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Leo T. Miller, Columbia county, and family Mrs. Serff is reported quite well again although she had been ill before going to her daughter's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Albright, who left for Punta Gorda, Fla., shortly before Christmas, have reopened their home near Brown's dam on R. 2.

The Women's Missionary society of Trinity Lutheran church met during the past week at the home of a member, Mrs. John G. Leib, R. 3.

The work of the American Mission to Lepers, to which support local church people have contributed, was explained Sunday morning by the Rev. Mr. Crust, a representative of the mission, to those attending the meeting of the Morning Hour Sunday school at the Victoria schoolhouse, near town.

Miss Julia G. Glatfelter, who has operated a beauty shop at her home here for more than a year, is preparing to discontinue the business after Easter. Miss Glatfelter will move to Red Lion shortly, upon her marriage to George D. Alwood, that place. Mr. Alwood is a teacher of music in the Windsor area in York county.

NOTES ON PASTURE MANAGEMENT

Few other farm crops offer greater potential profits on investment and labor than do properly managed pastures. Yet no other phase of farming receives less care and attention. The net results are often alarming. Our pastures furnish a far lower carrying capacity in terms of grazing units per acre than do pastures of many other countries against whose commodities American farmers must compete in the world's markets. Grain and concentrate feeds must be used to offset the depreciated grazing because animals obtain fewer nutrients from badly worn, tired pastures. And barren slopes suffer unseen but threatening soil losses around the year because there is no vegetative carpet to protect the priceless top soil.

What practices constitute wise and constructive pasture management? Are they costly and difficult to employ? Can the average general farmer afford to invest the money and labor required to rejuvenate permanent pastures?

There are three major steps in profitable pasture building and care. (1) Feeding (2) Rotation; and (3) Supplemental crops.

The first refers to treatments that are usually necessary to restore tired and worn pasture soils. This condition of impairment is seen everywhere. It results from the simple but widely ignored fact that every pound of meat gallon of milk, fleece of wool and unit of power gained from pasture of work animals removes definite quantities of plant foods. And unless these are eventually returned to the soil in the form of commercial fertilizer or livestock manures, the soil will at last become impoverished and barren. Too, continued grazing tends to render pasture soils acid. Therefore, lime and fertilizer must be applied in the restoration process. Fortunately, one adequate treatment inaugurates a natural process of rejuvenation whose benefits last 10 to 20 years without further treatments.

No pasture can be grazed continually all summer and survive. Here is a widespread, deplorable curse to American farms. Regardless of whether the field consists of 200 or two acres, whether one or a hundred animals are grazed on it, rotation is an inescapable "must" in order to protect grasses from permanent damage from over-grazing.

Rotation is simple in practice. The field is divided by temporary or permanent fences into two to four equal plots. Animals are grazed on one luxuriant plot while the grass in the latest grazed area regains verdant growth. In other words, rotation grazing means more and better pasturage, less grazing exertion for animals, a longer pasturing season, more immunity from drought, less danger of soil erosion, and a far higher carrying capacity per acre.

Supplemental pasture growing is just plain thrift in action. Mid-summer often takes a toll even from rotated pastures. Rarely do milk cows go through July and August without a serious slump in production because grasses are scantier and less palatable. Herein a few acres of soybeans, alfalfa, Sudan grass, cowpeas, rape, or other suitable grazing crop or mixtures will profitably bridge this critical gap. And if a prolonged drought comes, emergency pasture crops stand out as an oasis in the grazing desert. The wonder is that more farmers do not grow a few acres of extra pasture just for sound and inexpensive insurance.

WHEN MOSS INVADERS LAWN

"Why are you applying lime on your lawn?"

Answers to this question usually turn around the subject of moss. But if the inquiry is spurred further, quite often the admission is elicited that the lawn owner has not taken the trouble to determine what causes moss to invade established lawns.

In the academic study of soils there is a fairly accurate adage—Nature hates bare ground. This is, in fact, the chief explanation of why moss gradually creeps in where grass once flourished. Of course, most owners believe that moss kills or crowds out the grass. Many of those who rush to the lime bag for relief take it for granted through some strange quirk of thinking that soil acidity is back of the trouble. So early spring again brings this subject to the front and some clear thinking is certainly in order.

Moss in almost all instances appears in lawns because soil fertility is exhausted and grass is already started out. The moss comes to give the otherwise bare soil a coat. In many cases the grass dies out and moss develops because grass seed of sun-loving varieties was sown in dense shade and the grass died solely from lack of sunshine. In perhaps well over half the cases studied, moss enters after roots from large trees have robbed lawn grass of needed moisture and nourishment. Thus, lack of available plant foods and competition from tree roots are, through the processes of starvation, the major causes of moss invasions.

The correction is not always as simple as the diagnosis. In lawn areas where grass in the shade of buildings, walls or shrub borders fails because the species and varieties are not adapted to shade, the remedy lies in sowing seed of shade-loving grasses, such as the hardy Poe trivialis.

In either shade or open sun where grass fails and moss comes in because soil fertility has been allowed to decline to the point of actual starvation, the best means of correction is found in one of two practices: (1) If the soil is not too badly worn, if enough organic matter remains to render it fairly mellow, feeding with 6-8-6 or 5-10-5 fertilizer in early March, early June and early September will reinvigorate the sod. (2) If the soil is hard and shallow, a general rebuilding is advisable, which means the working of enough fertile loam into the soil to render it deeply mellow—a task for early September.

But, if the moss problem results from shallow roots of large trees starving grass out by competition, correction is a far more difficult

STEAL DOG AND TREE

St. Joseph, Mo., April 3 (AP) — It was bad enough when someone stole his watchdog, said Frank Marun, but after all, there's a limit.

Martin, who has a house on the Missouri river bank, carefully tied his 80-pound watchdog outside the house Monday night.

Yesterday morning Martin found the dog had been stolen. But then to add insult to injury, the thieves had also stolen the elm tree used to tie up the dog.

Tenniss was purely an amateur sport until 1926.

TOWN FIGHTS TO RETAIN FACTORY

Remov. Pa., April 3 (AP)—A new race against time was under way in this little mountain town today to raise $10,000 by Monday to save a community-sponsored factory. Citizens must get the money or face loss of their $200,000 factory through foreclosure.

Building contractors gave the community until Monday to produce some $52,000 still owed on the structure. An extended campaign has produced all but $10,000.

Civic leaders have high hopes of collecting the remainder. A series of week-end fun-raising stunts may bridge the gap.

The residents of this North Clinton county town of 4,000 came up with $106,000 two years ago to build the factory to provide new industry. Rising construction costs boosted the final cost of the structure to $200,000. Successive fund drives whittled the debt to the $52,000 mark.

The Mylad Manufacturing Co., of New York, took over the factory shortly after it was completed, providing jobs for 200 women. Their weekly wages total $5,500. If the building contractors take over the factory, the shirt factory may be forced to vacate its 10-year lease.

TOWN FIGHTS TO RETAIN FACTORY

Renovo, Pa., April 3 (AP)—A new race against time was under way in this little mountain town today to raise $10,000 by Monday to save a community-sponsored factory. Citizens must get the money or face loss of their $200,000 factory through foreclosure.

Building contractors gave the community until Monday to produce some $52,000 still owed on the structure. An extended campaign has produced all but $10,000.

Civic leaders have high hopes of collecting the remainder. A series of week-end fun-raising stunts may bridge the gap.

The residents of this North Clinton county town of 4,000 came up with $106,000 two years ago to build the factory to provide new industry. Rising construction costs boosted the final cost of the structure to $200,000. Successive fund drives whittled the debt to the $52,000 mark.

The Mylad Manufacturing Co., of New York, took over the factory shortly after it was completed, providing jobs for 200 women. Their weekly wages total $5,500. If the building contractors take over the factory, the shirt factory may be forced to vacate its 10-year lease.

COSTS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENTS SKYROCKETING

Littlestown

Littlestown—Mrs. Edward Phunkert, West King street, was hostess to the Mine society of St. Paul's Lutheran church for the monthly meeting on Tuesday evening. The Harrisburg, April 3 (P)—The cost of operating local governments in Pennsylvania has skyrocketed 71 per cent since 1945 and now totals over 750 million dollars a year.

Despite this climb local governments were warned today that their fiscal problems will increase even more in severity during the months ahead.

Dr. Howard W. R. Hancock, director of the state bureau of municipal affairs, issued the warning in disclosing that local government costs in 1950, the latest year compiled, reached $753,532,809. The 1945 cost was only $441 million.

Revenues Up 57 Pct
On the other side of the ledger, revenues taken in by local governments in 1950 totaled $58,733,315, an increase of 57 per cent over the 1945 level.

Dr. Hancock said an analysis of the national municipal fiscal situation shows that Pennsylvania has been following the pattern set by other states. Expenditures of all cities in the United States during the 1945-50 period increased about 66 per cent while revenue collections were increasing 84 per cent. "All of this fiscal information is significant in view of the financial conditions facing local political units in 1952," said Dr. Hancock.

He noted that the problem of budgeting is even more pronounced because of increased cost of materials and services.

Personnel Problem
"Because of competition with private industry where jobs are plentiful and salaries relatively higher, government agencies are harassed with the problem of retaining competent personnel," Dr. Hancock stated.

"It is highly probable," he added, "that these problems will increase in severity during the months ahead."

Of the 1950 expenditures by local units, Philadelphia, with a cost of $155,371,711, had the largest budget.

Next to Philadelphia in total expenditures were the 67 county governments which spend $71,430,854, while the 940 boroughs spent $49,351,580. The 60 first class townships accounted for $12,951,939, and the 1510 second class townships, $20,581,428.

Derailed Freight Blocks Rail Traffic

Lehigh Valley, Pa., April 3 (P)—The derailment of the end two cars of a freight train blocked the east-west tracks of the Lehigh Valley railroad at the Bethlehem yards for more than six hours last night.

The railroad reported early today that a work crew from Easton, Pa., had cleared the tracks. A conductor and several other men were in the caboose of the freight when it and a coal car jumped the tracks. The cars did not overturn and no one was injured.

The derailed cars jammed into a 30-foot signal bridge, throwing 10 electric signals out of service. Manual signals were put into use.

A railroad spokesman at Easton said the train was being backed out of the yards by a switch engine. The cause of the accident was not determined.

Lehigh Valley trains, running between New York and Buffalo, were rerouted over Central Railroad tracks between Allentown and Easton, Pa., until the tracks were cleared.

Find "Do It Yourself Garage" Is Popular

Montreal (P)—Peter Staruch recently opened a "Do It Yourself Garage" here and he says he has discovered more potential mechanics than you can shake a stick at.

The garage is a paradise for people who like to tinker with their cars. They can wallow in greases and oil for only a fraction of the cost of having mechanics do the work.

Pete borrowed the idea from articles about two Chicago men who set up auto stalls, handed out tools and advice, and allowed car owners to rip their cars apart for the love of it.

All you pay for in the "Do It Yourself Garage" is the space your car occupies. With space for 15 to 20 cars, Pete is now taking advance reservations.

For $2.75 a day—of 14 hours—customers draw a stall, light extensions and a box of tools. If they need jacks or other equipment all they have to do is yell.

COSTS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENTS SKYROCKETING

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—The cost of operating local governments in Pennsylvania has skyrocketed 71 per cent since 1945 and now totals over 750 million dollars a year.

Despite this climb, local governments were warned today that their fiscal problems will increase even more "in severity during the months ahead."

Dr. Howard W. R. Hancock, director of the state bureau of municipal affairs, issued the warning in disclosing that local government costs in 1950, the latest year compiled, reached $752,532,809. The 1945 cost was only 441 millions.

Littlestown ALPHA FIREMEN ACCEPT BID TO JULY 4 PARADE

Alpha Fire Company No. 1 accepted the invitation of the Gettysburg Fire department to participate in the Fourth of July parade in Gettysburg which will be one of the features of the celebration of the 89th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, at a meeting of the fire company held at the engine house Tuesday night. The president, Bernard M. Selby, presided.

Forty-nine members were present. Plans were furthered for the annual summer carnival to be held from August 4 through August 9 on the community playground, and the following carnival committees were appointed: General, Bernard

M. Selby, Wilson Green, Harry W. Badders, Henry E. Waltman and Clark Fuhrman; finance, Paul E. Altoff, Edward J. Altoff, Wilbur A. Bankert and Theron W. Spangler; entertainment, Henry E. Waltman and Paul R. Snyder; advertising, Paul E. Altoff, building, George W. Strevig, chairman; books, Richard B. Harlaub, chairman; refreshments, Wayne Arnold and Ivan Rickrode; game, Robert Myers, chairman; fruit stand, Bernard Dillman, chairman; country store, Charles Snyder, chairman; other games, Robert Koonz, chairman.

The meeting opened with singing of "America" and the Lord's Prayer in unison. Clyde Harner and Glenn Kauffman were elected to membership. The president appointed Guy Conover, Robert L. Snyder and Dennis S. Wallack as investigating committee for two applications. The secretary, Harry W. Badders, presented his report and announced that 13 members had been dropped for non-payment of dues. Six more have been dropped because of change of address.

Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler reported that one fire call was received during March, to the home of Carl Johnson, Littlestown R. 1, when fire caused $600 damage to a garage and workshop. Monroe Morelock, chairman of a committee arranging a smoker, reported that the affair would be held April 25 at the engine house. Tickets will be placed on sale soon.

A discussion was held on having a water connection replaced on the Littlestown playground, near the tennis courts. A drinking fountain was once in use there. The committee to investigate the matter consists of Wayne Arnold, Henry E. Waltman and Bernard M. Selby. The meeting closed with refreshments served by the April committee composed of Allen Wastler, John H. Fickinger and Noah Strevig. Part of the refreshments were the contribution of Central Hotel. The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the engine house.

Cubmaster Resigns

Cubmaster L. Robert Crouse presented his resignation at a meeting of the Cub Pack committee Tuesday evening in the basement of the State bank building, giving as his reason the press of his private business. E. Paul Bigelow was acting chairman. Final plans were made for a Cub Scout hike on Saturday. The scouts will meet at 8:30 a.m. in the rear of the local grade school building. Each Cub is requested to provide his own food. The den fathers will accompany the group. The boys will be given instructions concerning the hike at the regular scout meeting on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the bank. The tentative date for a paper drive was set for Saturday, April 19. It was announced that the Cubs completed work on the corn poppers, one of their March projects, at the meeting last Thursday evening. It was decided not to hold a meeting next week due to the Holy Week services in the community churches. Those in attendance at the Tuesday meeting included Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. G. Richard Kipple, Mr. and Mrs. Reaven Hanlon, Maj. and Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Way and Mrs. Wilson Stair.

The sophomore class at the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school will sponsor a public skating party on Tuesday, April 8, at 8 p.m. at Basehoar's rink, North Queen street. Four moonlight skates will be featured, and five awards will be offered.

EIGHT NAMED IN $1,800,000 BANK SHORTAGE

Pittsburgh, April 3 (AP)—Eight business men are under federal indictment in connection with a $1,800,000 shortage that caused an official of the First National bank at Cecil to commit suicide.

The grand jury charged the eight:

men yesterday with giving John F. Wagner, vice president and cashier of the Washington county bank, checks for $78,100 although there were no funds to cover them.

Wagner touched off an investigation of bank affairs when he fatally shot himself in front of the bank vault 18 months ago. He left a note directing attention to the shortage.

The FBI said Wagner would be the principal target of the charges were he still alive but declared his death does not prevent the others from being charged similarly.

The indictments are based on checks cashed during 1949 and 1950. The FBI said the government is unable to go back further because of the statute of limitations.

Two Brothers Involved

Of the eight indicted, the FBI said Frank C. Dicio and Mario M. Dicio, brothers from Canonsburg, were the biggest offenders. Each is charged with cashing $30,000 worth of bad checks with Wagner's aid.

Frank Dicio was indicted on two counts of misapplication and his brother, Mario, on 10 counts of misapplication.

Others under indictment are: John C. Joseph, 41, of suburban Mt. Lebanon—17 counts of misapplication, two of false entry, one of making a false affidavit.

Joseph J. Caplan, 38, Canonsburg—Five counts of misapplication, one of false entry.

Mario M. Branciforti, 36, Canonsburg—10 counts of misapplication, one of check-kiting.

Regis G. Tornavene, 31, Bridgeville—Eight counts of misapplication, one of false entry.

James R. Coleman, 39, Cecil—Eight counts of misapplication, one of false entry.

Also indicted was Samuel P. Lewis, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Indiana. He was arrested last fall and is now out of bond. He is charged with embezzlement of $40,000 and misapplication of $9,500.

TAXI WALKOUT ENDS

Pottstown, Pa., April 3 (AP)—T. Harp Brothers Taxi service is back to normal today after settlement of a nine-day walkout by its 12 drivers. As the walkout was ended last, spokesman for the independent taxi drivers union said an agreement was reached with the company in dispute over an accident clause in the drivers' contract.

Embezzlers have been found to have the highest intelligence of any class of criminals.

The worship service at St. James Reformed church, along the Harney road, will be held on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. instead of the usual time at 10:30 a.m., as the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Edward R. Hamme, will conduct the communion service at St. Luke's church on Sunday morning. Preparatory service at St. James will be held on Good Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. On Easter Sunday at 10:30 a.m., Holy Communion will be administered and the rite of confirmation will take place.

Postpone Meeting

The Ladies Aid society of St. Luke's Union church, near White Hall, will not meet on Wednesday, April 9, as previously announced due to the Holy Week services. The meeting will be held a week later, April 16, at 7:30 at the church. The committee on arrangements is composed of Mrs. Ralph Flocking, chairman, Miss Janet Flocking, Mrs. Donald Gardner, Mrs. Oscar E. Feeman, Mrs. Charles Ginter, Mrs. Richard Gladfelter, Mrs. Robert Gladhill and Mrs. Melvin Good.

The union vesper service on Sunday evening in Redeemer's Reformed church was very well attended. The service was in charge of the host pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds. The processional and recessional were by the Senior choir with Miss Shirley Gobrecht, church organist, at the console. The scripture was read by the Rev. Mr. Reynolds. The anthem, "The Lamb of God," was sung by the Senior choir.

The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, introduced the Rev. Dr. George E. Bowersox of McSherrystown as the guest speaker. Rev. Dr. Bowersox spoke on "God's Great Gift through Christ—Eternal Life." The devotions closed with the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Reynolds.

This was the last vesper service in the present series. The summer series will begin during the latter part of June and will be held Sunday evening beginning at 7 o'clock for a period of about ten weeks in the pavilion at Crouse Park. These services are arranged by the Littlestown Ministerium.

Election of officers will take place at the meeting of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Eagles home, West King street. Those nominated to office include: President, Lake A. Shandbrook; vice president, Lloyd F. Weaver; chaplain, Robert Beavenour; treasurer, Edward

G. Loeffel; inside guard, George Fowler; outside guard, Samuel Smeltzer, and trustee for three years, Robert Barnes. Installation will take place at a meeting in June.

The Citizenship and Patriotism

committee composed of Harry T. Harner, Elmer W. Gall and Clyde Rohrbach will be in charge of the program at the first April meeting of the Littlestown Lions club on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at Bankert's restaurant, South Queen street. Contestants for the show are now needed. They may register with Marvin F. Breighner at Marvin's Cut Rate Store or Chester S. Byers at the Littlestown State bank. The contestants will be divided into two age groups, up to and including 12 years and 13 and over. Cash prizes totaling $100 will be given.

TRINITY CIRCLE PLANS RUMMAGE, PRODUCT SALE

Trinity Circle of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church held its annual business meeting Sunday at the church with Mrs. Fred Hummel as president.

Mrs. Dorsey Pebert was named chairman of a rummage sale to be held in the near future. Other members of the committee are Mrs. J. William Kendeheart, Mrs. Robert P. Seiser, Mrs. Charles McGowan, Mrs. Harry Price, Mrs. Joseph D. Kendeheart and Mrs. Ivan Collins.

Mrs. Carl S. Menchey was named chairman of a "product sale" committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Robert J. Weikert and Mrs. J. William Kendeheart.

Mrs. Snyder, also president of the Alar Guild of the church, asked members of the circle for contributions of food for the guild's Easter market to be held April 12 at the National garage Chambersburg street.

She also asked support for a congregational covered dish supper on May 11 sponsored by the guild as part of the observance of the 100th anniversary of the church.

At the request of Mrs. Howard S. Fox, several members volunteered their services for assistance in the church nursery during worship service on Easter morning.

Reports were given by chairmen of the ways and means, membership and sunshine committees. The session opened with devotions in charge of the hostesses, Mrs. Snyder, chairman Mrs. John W. Moser and Mrs. C. T. Ziegler. Seventeen members were present for the supper and four additional members attended the business meeting. Following this session Mrs. Jennings B. Collins presented a record of the program given at the church "Last night" preceding the opening of the Lenten season.

Hostesses for the May meeting will be Mrs. George T. Raffensperger, Mrs. Robert Sheads, Sr., Mrs. Elmer Yoder and Mrs. McGowan.

State Defending Poison Bait Use

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—The commonwealth turned to lawbooks today in defense of its campaign against rabid foxes.

The state justice department was prompted into action by court suits filed against two game wardens for the illegal spreading of poison.

A hearing was set for April 8 to determine if the state is within its rights in ordering that 95,000 foxes, many of which are carrying rabies, be exterminated by poisoning areas which they inhabit.

Contending that the state has no authority to poison animals, Henry L. Freking, 72, publisher of the Bucks County Traveler, a monthly magazine, obtained a warrant for the arrest of Edwin W. Flexer, game protector for the Quakertown area. Freking said his two valuable dogs died of poison which was spread contrary to state law. Not even the president can distribute poison for animals in Pennsylvania, he believes.

TRUMAN LEAVES BIG QUESTION UNANSWERED

Washington, April 3 (AP)—President Truman, whether you like him or not, is an extremely human man, quick tempered, as humble as any man who ever occupied the White House, almost painfully loyal to his friends in most cases, and with an astonishing ability to appear cheerful in the face of adversity.

When he said he wouldn't run again it was probably the most important statement he'll ever make, from a political standpoint. But from the strictly human side he left the most important question unanswered. Why did he decide not to run? He or his friends may explain it some day. Maybe it was as simple as this: He was getting old and his wife wanted him to take it easy.

But it was probably a lot more complicated than that because in the past year unpleasant events piled up on him, enough of them to tax the cheerfulness of any man, even such a professional politician as Mr. Truman who gave the impression of walking on the sunny side even when the clouds were rolling up.

Did Decision Change? ## TRINITY CIRCLE PLANS RUMMAGE, PRODUCT SALE

Trinity Circle of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church held its April business meeting following a covered dish supper Tuesday night at the church, with Mrs. Fred Hummelbaugh, president, presiding.

Mrs. Dorsey Rebert was named chairman of a committee in charge of a rummage sale to be held in the near future. Other members of the committee are Mrs. J. William Kendlehart, Mrs. Robert P. Snyder, Mrs. Charles McGuigan, Mrs. Harry Price, Mrs. Joseph D. Kendlehart and Mrs. Ivan Collins.

Mrs. Carl S. Menchey was named chairman of a "product sale" committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Robert J. Weikert and Mrs. J. William Kendlehart.

Mrs. Snyder, who is president of the Altar Guild of the church, asked members of the circle for contributions of food for the guild's Easter market to be held April 12 at the National garage, Chambersburg street.

She also asked support for a congregational covered dish supper on May 11 sponsored by the guild as part of the observance of the 100th anniversary of the church.

At the request of Mrs. Howard S. Fox, several members volunteered their services for assistance in the church nursery during worship service on Easter morning.

Reports were given by chairman of the ways and means, membership and sunshine committees.

The session opened with devotions in charge of the hostesses, Mrs. Snyder, chairman; Mrs. John W. Moser and Mrs. C. T. Ziegler. Seventeen members were present for the supper and four additional members attended the business meeting. Following this session, Mrs. Jennings B. Collins presented a recording of the program given at the church "stunt night" preceding the opening of the Lenten season.

Hostesses for the May meeting will be Mrs. George T. Raffensperger, Mrs. Robert Sheads, Sr., Mrs. Elmer Yoder and Mrs. McGuigan.

State Defending Poison Bait Use

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—The commonwealth turned to lawbooks today in defense of its campaign against rabid foxes.

The state justice department was prompted into action by court suits filed against two game wardens for the "illegal spreading of poison."

A hearing was set for April 8 to determine if the state is within its rights in ordering that 95,000 foxes, many of which are carrying rabies, be exterminated by poisoning areas which they inhabit.

Contending that the state has no authority to poison animals, Henry L. Freking, 72, publisher of the Bucks County Traveler, a monthly magazine, obtained a warrant for the arrest of Edwin W. Flexer, game protector for the Quakertown area. Freking said his two valuable dogs died of poison which was spread contrary to state law. Not even the president can distribute poison for animals in Pennsylvania, he believes.

TRUMAN LEAVES BIG QUESTION UNANSWERED

Washington, April 3 (AP)—President Truman, whether you like him or not, is an extremely human man, quick tempered, as humble as any man who ever occupied the White House, almost painfully loyal to his friends in most cases, and with an astonishing ability to appear cheerful in the face of adversity.

When he said he wouldn't run again it was probably the most important statement he'll ever make, from a political standpoint. But from the strictly human side he left the most important question unanswered: Why did he decide not to run? He or his friends may explain it some day. Maybe it was as simple as this: He was getting old and his wife wanted him to take it easy.

But it was probably a lot more complicated than that because in the past year unpleasant events piled up on him, enough of them to tax the cheerfulness of any man, even such a professional politician as Mr. Truman who gave the impression of walking on the sunny side even when the clouds were rolling up.

Did Decision Change?

One year ago, on March 29, 1951, he told a news conference he had reached a decision about seeking another term but would not disclose it until he was ready and in spite of repeated needling at all the news conferences in the year that followed he managed to keep the quizzers guessing.

In March, 1951, things were perking up a bit for Mr. Truman. The Americans in Korea were beginning to do well again, after their shattering reverses in the 1950-51 winter; General Eisenhower had gone to Europe to build up the North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) army; inflation was still with us, but moving slowly; employment was high; and defense production was making progress.

If we won the war in Korea, inflation was checked, NATO did all right, and defense production was rolling, Truman might have been able to feel just about this time in 1951 that he could ask the voters for another term in the White House with some feeling of confidence he might get it. There was certainly no other candidate in the Democratic party who could be considered competition.

But by last Saturday night, March 29, which was one year to the day since he had said he had reached a decision, rebuffs and reverses had piled up for Truman so the decision he announced Saturday night, not to run, might have been just the opposite of the decision he had reached a year ago.

STALIN'S WORDS MAY BE TIPOFF ON NEW DRIVE

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(AP Foreign News Analyst)
Helsinki, Finland, April 3 (AP) — Prime Minister Stalin's latest statement may signal an all-out drive by the Communists to picture the Soviet Union as the only champion of a unified Germany.

Stalin said he considers the present moment opportune for unification of Germany. He said it at a time the western powers are planning to sign a peace contract with West Germany, in belief that no final decision is possible in making peace with Germany as a whole. The United States, Britain and France have been unable to find an approach toward such unification that is acceptable both to east and west. The Soviet Union, for one thing, has refused to do business with a United Nations commission designated to find out if all-German elections can be held fairly and honestly.

But the unity theme has a great appeal to Germans, including many in the areas occupied by the three western powers. Thus the Stalin statement, coming on top of Soviet approval of the idea of rearming a unified Germany, may serve as the starting point for a concerted attack on the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Would Create Vacuum

A Germany unified on Moscow terms would create a vacuum in central Europe despite Soviet claims to the contrary. The Soviet Union, of course, would like to neutralize Western Europe and bog down its building of defense works.

Stalin made his statement on Germany in response to questions sent by a group of U. S. newspaper and radio men on March 24. Four days later Adenauer announced that the U. S., British and French foreign ministers would meet with him in May to sign a peace contract — a way of life with Western Germany. The signing of such a peace contract would formalize the east-west split in Germany, and perhaps prove a permanent block to Soviet plans for Europe. Thus there is a feeling of urgency in Moscow about Germany, and that is probably one reason Stalin decided to answer the American newsmen's questionnaire.

Stalin also said he considers a third world war no nearer than it was two or three years ago. That is a "welcome" mat for the International Economic conference opening in Moscow today. This conference is intended to build a fire under western governments to turn them away from U. S. leadership and toward the east, for business.

A junior, Miss Waltemyer served this year on the staff as editor of the faculty and administration section. Last year she filled the position as assistant faculty and administration editor.

Lighting Experts Make Local Survey

Street lighting specialists of the Metropolitan Edison company were in Gettysburg Tuesday and conducted a survey of the present street lighting facilities.

The inspection followed a request at the last borough council meet-

Catholic Women To Meet In Lancaster

The annual convention of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held in Lancaster on June 25 and will open on March 3 by Councilman John Fox that a survey be made. Fox said present street lights are antiquated and waste too much light upward.

Accompanying Richard E. Dreas, local Metropolitan Edison manager, on Tuesday's inspection were L. E. Weber, Reading, outdoor lighting expert of the M-E; Ralph Leber, York, also a specialist on outdoor illumination and Edward H. Bletner, of the Hanover office of the electric company.

with a solemn pontifical high mass in St. Joseph's church, that city, according to an announcement made by the Diocesan Council officers. The celebrant will be Bishop George L. Leech, Harrisburg, and the Rev. Paul Gieringer, pastor of St. Anthony's church, will preach the sermon. These arrangements were made at a meeting of the convention committee in the Catholic Woman's club, Lancaster.

Other plans include registration of delegates in St. Joseph's parish hall prior to the mass. Luncheon, afternoon session and banquet will be held in the Moose Hall. Headquarters for the guests will be Hotel Brunswick, and some will be placed in Lancaster homes. Mrs. Henry Schaller, deanery president, has appointed Mrs. Joseph Rettig as housing chairman.

Msgr. Joseph J. Schweich, of St. Joseph's church, will be moderator for the convention. Among the honored guests will be Mrs. Gerald Bennett, Washington, president of the National Council of Catholic Women, and Miss Pauline Gallagher, Steelton, Diocesan president. Further plans for the convention will be made at the quarterly meeting of the Lancaster Deanery on May 18. Members of the parish councils of the Conewago and York deaneries will attend the annual convention and to contribute to the 1952 project, which is five thousand infants' and children's garments for the Holy Father's stockpile in the warehouse in Rome.

STALIN'S WORDS MAY BE TIPOFF ON NEW DRIVE

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(AP Foreign News Analyst)
Helsinki, Finland, April 3 (AP) — Prime Minister Stalin's latest statement may signal an all-out drive by the Communists to picture the Soviet Union as the only champion of a unified Germany.

Stalin said he considers the present moment opportune for unification of Germany. He said it at a time the western powers are planning to sign a peace contract with West Germany, in belief that no final decision is possible in making peace with Germany as a whole. The United States, Britain and France have been unable to find an approach toward such unification that is acceptable both to east and west. The Soviet Union, for one thing, has refused to do business with a United Nations commission designated to find out if all-German elections can be held fairly and honestly.

But the unity theme has a great appeal to Germans, including many in the areas occupied by the three western powers. Thus the Stalin statement, coming on top of Soviet approval of the idea of rearming a unified Germany, may serve as the starting point for a concerted attack on the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Would Create Vacuum

A Germany unified on Moscow terms would create a vacuum in central Europe despite Soviet claims to the contrary. The Soviet Union, of course, would like to neutralize Western Europe and bog down its building of defense works.

Stalin made his statement on Germany in response to questions sent by a group of U. S. newspaper and radio men on March 24. Four days later Adenauer announced that the U. S., British and French foreign ministers would meet with him in May to sign a peace contract — a way of life with Western Germany. The signing of such a peace contract would formalize the east-west split in Germany, and perhaps prove a permanent block to Soviet plans for Europe. Thus there is a feeling of urgency in Moscow about Germany, and that is probably one reason Stalin decided to answer the American newsmen's questionnaire.

Stalin also said he considers a third world war no nearer than it was two or three years ago. That is a "welcome" mat for the International Economic conference opening in Moscow today. This conference is intended to build a fire under western governments to turn them away from U. S. leadership and toward the east, for business.

Catholic Women To Meet In Lancaster

The annual convention of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held in Lancaster on June 25 and will open on March 3 by Councilman John Fox that a survey be made. Fox said present street lights are antiquated and waste too much light upward.

Accompanying Richard E. Dreas, local Metropolitan Edison manager, on Tuesday's inspection were L. E. Weber, Reading, outdoor lighting expert of the M-E; Ralph Leber, York, also a specialist on outdoor illumination and Edward H. Bietner, of the Hanover office of the electric company.

with a solemn pontifical high mass in St. Joseph's church, that city, according to an announcement made by the Diocesan Council officers. The celebrant will be Bishop George L. Leech, Harrisburg, and the Rev. Paul Gieringer, pastor of St. Anthony's church, will preach the sermon. These arrangements were made at a meeting of the convention committee in the Catholic Woman's club, Lancaster.

Other plans include registration of delegates in St. Joseph's parish hall prior to the mass. Luncheon, afternoon session and banquet will be held in the Moose Hall. Headquarters for the guests will be Hotel Brunswick, and some will be placed in Lancaster homes. Mrs. Henry Schaller, deanery president, has appointed Mrs. Joseph Rettig as housing chairman.

Mrs. Joseph J. Schweich, of St. Joseph's church, will be moderator for the convention. Among the honored guests will be Mrs. Gerald Bennett, Washington, president of the National Council of Catholic Women, and Miss Pauline Gallagher, Steelton, Diocesan president. Further plans for the convention will be made at the quarterly meeting of the Lancaster Deanery on May 18. Members of the parish councils of the Conewago and York deaneries will attend the annual convention and to contribute to the 1952 project, which is five thousand infants' and children's garments for the Holy Father's stockpile in the warehouse in Rome.

In a small power station in the Idaho sagebrush last December, men made electricity for the first time from the atom. Lights burned, heaters glowed, machinery pumped — all on atomic energy. Soon, the atom commissioners tell us, we may have a new unending source of heat, light and power.

Soon—the atom will bake a cake!

ANY DAY NOW, there'll be news of some revolutionary civilian use of atomic power.

Heating? ... already the British are heating houses from an atomic pile. Transportation? ... the U. S. will soon have atom-driven submarines—will we also have atom-power for cars and planes? Housekeeping? ... Will we get new foods, textiles, dishes and labor-saving devices in unheard-of abundance.

Whatever the first big break in peacetime atomic invention, you'll want to know how it works, who figured it out, where it will be produced — and most of all, who has it and where you can get it in this city.

You'll want the whole story — as only your local paper's news columns or ads can tell it to you.

That's how it is with every important news or product story. It may be important to every living human being from here to Timbuctoo, but only your local newspaper can tell it as it affects you.

And there's some news that affects you — in some phase of your life — every single day.

So you read a newspaper every day — and so does everybody else. ... This is true of no other form of communication.

If you're selling something that's advertised, make sure it's advertised to all the people in town who can possibly buy.

Out of the raw material of life in your town, the newspaper editor creates his paper fresh every day to appeal to everybody. Not just comedy fans, or mystery fans, or sports fans — but everybody. This is true in no other form of communication.

Just as you read the paper now, all your customers and prospects read the paper too — at the time they choose, for as long as they choose — for the advertising as well as for the news.

Is it any wonder that advertisers today invest far more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising?

Only the newspaper is first with the most news ... first with the most people ... first with the most advertisers!

That leftover prescription

Medical scientists long ago gave up the search for a cure-all. Each sickness requires special treatment to fit the particular case. The medicine that helped Janie may be of no value whatsoever to Bobby. In fact, it might cause serious trouble if used unadvisedly. Never save a leftover prescription for future use. Let your doctor prescribe fresh, specific medicine for each illness. Only then are you safe and sure of proper treatment.

In a small power station in the Idaho sagebrush last December, men made electricity for the first time from the atom. Lights burned, heaters glowed, machinery pumped—all on atomic energy. Soon, the atom commissioners tell us, we may have a new unending source of heat, light and power.

Soon—the atom will bake a cake!

ANY DAY NOW, there'll be news of some revolutionary civilian use of atomic power.

Heating? ... already the British are heating houses from an atomic pile. Transportation? ... the U. S. will soon have atom-driven submarines—will we also have atom-power for cars and planes? Housekeeping? ... Will we get new foods, textiles, dishes and labor-saving devices in unheard-of abundance.

Whatever the first big break in peacetime atomic invention, you'll want to know how it works, who figured it out, where it will be produced—and most of all, who has it and where you can get it in this city.

You'll want the whole story—as only your local paper's news columns or ads can tell it to you.

That's how it is with every important news or product story. It may be important to every living human being from here to Timbuctoo, but only your local newspaper can tell it as it affects you.

And there's some news that affects you—in some phase of your life—every single day.

So you read a newspaper every day—and so does everybody else. ... This is true of no other form of communication.

If you're selling something that's advertised, make sure it's advertised to all the people in town who can possibly buy.

Out of the raw material of life in your town, the newspaper editor creates his paper fresh every day to appeal to everybody. Not just comedy fans, or mystery fans, or sports fans—but everybody. This is true in no other form of communication.

Just as you read the paper now, all your customers and prospects read the paper too—at the time they choose, for as long as they choose—for the advertising as well as for fun or news.

Is it any wonder that advertisers today invest far more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising?

Only the newspaper is first with the most news ... first with the most people ... first with the most advertisers!
